McNICHOL'S ON HAND.

STAKE YOUR CLAIM NOW.

Some say the world is but a snare,
Not fit for good folks to live in;
A place of deceit and misery complete
And a spot misers care not to give in,
But others find plenty to dare and to do
Beneath the blue heaven's broad dome,
To struggle and strive, to keep well alive,
And to build up a beautiful home.

Why should the spirit of mortal
Be too proud to cherish small things?
There's never a day we can't stow away
Some items which true comfort brings.
Beware of false pride—go to work
With an aim to recall past mistakes;
Be honest and true and go the world through
With the wish to stop woes and heartaches.

There are many now seeking relief
From labor, from a journey afar,
But they spend all they get and not happy yet,
And are no better off than you are;
Home is surely dearest and best,
If you have none, begin now to save.
You'll add to your rank by starting a bank.
A home which your neighbors all crave.

Remember no fortune you need,
Put a weekly sum by as you can,
Make at once the great strike, get things that you like,
All you want on the installment plan;
McNichol has never refused,
He is ready as ever to aid
The height of your wishes, your furniture, dishes,
Your carpets, and soon your home is made.

There is nothing difficult about this plan, it is the easiest thing in the world. You will live and die poor and uncomfortable unless you stick to this ingenious method, whereby every dollar you put in household goods is a dollar saved.

Do not wait until the busy season and the old high prices, go now and see and old methods are not the easiest by far. Many people travel them because they have not tried the better way. It is a relief from a sort of slavery to break away from old-fashioned methods and adopt the labor-saving and strength-sparing inventions of modern times. Get out of old ruts and into new ways by using a cake of SAPOLIO in your house-cleaning.

A FRIENDLY TIP.

Emperor William Warned on the Eve of His Russian Trip.

His Majesty Must Avoid Close Contact With the Czar.

Queen Victoria Alarmed Over the Mysterious Warning—The Banquet at Osborne House—A Sensational Scene in the Argentine Chamber Over President Celman's Resignation—Ravages of the Cholera at Jeddah—The Cremation Congress—Negotiations for Peace Between Salvador and Guatemala—Foreign News.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The banquet given by the Queen in honor of the German Emperor at Osborne House last evening was a magnificent affair. For use upon the occasion Her Majesty ordered a splendid gold dinner service sent down from Windsor and all of the appointments of the entertainment were in keeping with the grandeur of the table furnishings. After the banquet the Emperor and Gen. Wolseley had an animated chat on military topics.

THE EMPEROR'S MYSTERIOUS WARNING.

It is reported that Emperor William has received a mysterious warning to be careful of himself on his visit to Russia and to avoid as much as possible too close contact with the Czar. The unknown writer of the warning says that the Emperor has begun his reign in a satisfactory manner and that there is a purpose to give him a fair chance to prove himself a man of the people; but that the Czar has condemned himself by his own acts. Queen Victoria is represented to be so much alarmed about the matter as to view her grandson's proposed visit to Russia with many misgivings which, however, the Emperor does not share. Out of delicacy toward German sentiment, the Viborg regiment of the Russian army, which is under the honorary command of the Kaiser, will not take part in the sham battle which will form a part of the entertainment during the Kaiser's visit.

NO GROUND FOR APPREHENSION.

The leading Hebrews of London say that there is no real ground for the apprehension expressed by English newspapers regarding an irruption of Russian Hebrews into that country. It is claimed that the vast majority will emigrate to the United States and find congenial employment in the large cities of America, and that there is no need of legislative or police action against them in Great Britain.

POSTPONED HIS DEPARTURE.

The Emperor William has postponed his departure until midnight Friday.

The Argentine Row.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A dispatch to the Times from Buenos Ayres says:

"After the reading in the Chamber of Deputies of President Celman's message tendering his resignation of the Presidency, Gen. Roca invited the members to express their opinions as to the advisability of accepting it. Gen. Mansella opposed its acceptance on the ground that such action by the Chamber would be an admission of the triumph of the revolution and of Buenos Ayres over the other provinces of the Republic. He declared that the action of President Celman in tendering his resignation was culpable cowardice. Gen. Roca explained that he had sacrificed himself in order to show how utterly impossible it was for Celman to continue in the Presidency after the mistakes made by the members of the President's party. Nobody, he declared, should serve a man who has shown such complete incapacity. He had gravely compromised the country. It was not Buenos Ayres alone who possessed President Celman, but every province of the Republic, and every honest man was against him. Gen. Roca's remarks were greeted with applause. The vote on accepting the resignation was taken in dead silence, but when the result was announced, showing a majority in favor of accepting it, the chamber resounded with cheers. Gen. Roca quietly left the chamber by a back door in order to escape the joyful demonstrations of those present. There is much rejoicing throughout the city at the success of the movement to force President Celman's resignation. It is probable that Gen. Roca will be Minister of the Interior in the new Cabinet; Senor Irejoin will probably be Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Senor Castra Minister of Finance. Senors La Plaza, Uriburiu and Garcia are also mentioned as probable members of the new Cabinet. Dr. Del Valle addressed a meeting of citizens last night. In the course of his address he said: "The Argentine Republic is now secure. I will not have a government of robbers.""

The Central American War.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 7.—Gen. Estanislas Sandoval, with Maxinio Cerna and Alfonso Iruncigaray and 3,000 soldiers, were badly beaten Monday last by Gen. Pedro Barillas with a force of Guatemalan regulars. Honduras is assisting Guatamala, President Bogram of Honduras having sent troops with the guerrilla chiefs, Figures and Maranda, to the frontier.

THE PEACE MOVEMENT.

Gen. Ezeta of San Salvador has informed the diplomatic corps at Guatemala City, which is mediating for peace, that he anxiously wishes peace in order to avoid further bloodshed. The announcement in yesterday morning's papers here of the acceptance by Guatemala of the proffered mediation of United States Minister Mizner with a view to securing peace through the foreign diplomatic corps, resident in the city of Guatemala, is considered as conclusive proof of weakness on the part of the Guatemalan Government, which, in making war against San Salvador, did not reckon with its host. The Guatemalan Legation here, however, even denies that such an offer has been made. It is believed that Guatemala is afraid to continue the war with its small enemy, and the general opinion among military men here is that Salvador has in its power to occupy the capital of Guatemala if it so desires. Cypher dispatches to a gentleman here, received last night through an American at Porvenir, Guatemala, say that there are no means of communication between here and Tapachula. All is confusion and a revolution is expected momentarily.

A Plucky American Seaman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 7.—A private letter from San Salvador dated July 30 has just been received here. The letter states that the ex-Minister of the Interior of San Salvador, who was seized by the San Salvadoran soldiers on the steamer Acapulo at La Libertad, escaped the next day and boarded the steamer Starbuck at La Libertad bound South. At Awaslia the fugitive was transferred to the Pacific mail steamer City of Panama. At La Union, a port in San Salvador, the soldiers attempted to board the steamer to search her. Capt. Clark commanded them to disarm before coming on board, and would not allow them to take any passengers off. The soldiers retired, and Capt. Clark made the same firm stand at two other ports. The fugitive was finally landed safely at Acapulco, where he probably took the next steamer for the United States.

GUATEMALAN REPORTS.

Domingo Estrada, the Guatemala Consul-General at this city, has received a dispatch from the Guatemalan Minister at the City of Mexico stating that Gen. Grimzary, the leader of the revolt against Barillas, has been routed by the Guatemalan troops at Palo Gran Eyta.

The Vice-President of San Salvador has organized a Government in Salvadoran territory in opposition to that of Ezeta, and is being aided by Gen. Miranda, one of the most important men of the Republic. The dispatch also stated that Ezeta had shot many people in connection with Riva's movement, among whom were many important personages.

The Blackburn-Lee Chess Match.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The match between the two London chess players, Messrs. Blackburn and Lee, which was commenced at Bradford under the auspices of the local club, was resumed yesterday in this city. The scene of combat is that old and renowned chess resort, "Simpson's Divan," on the Strand, and in the very row where Morphy achieved his great success when first visiting Europe. There was a very large attendance when Lee opened the tenth game, again selecting the so-called Zukertort opening. Blackburn, who is playing now as well as ever he did, managed to get by far the best game in the opening, and subsequently he increased this advantage by very fine play. When the middle of the game was reached, the giant proceeded with another brilliant combination, and Lee had to resign after twenty-nine moves were recorded on the scoring sheet. The score at present is: Blackburn, 4; Lee, 1; drawn, 5.

O'Brien Banqueted.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—London Irishmen gave a banquet to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Brien last evening. The gathering, which was very large, included many members of Parliament. Mr. Fitzgerald of Boston responded to the toast to Irish-Americans. While going to the banquet Mr. O'Brien was served with a notice of action to recover Lord Salisbury's costs in the recent suit unless paid by the 11th inst.

RESISTING THE TYRANNY OF WORKMEN.

At a mass meeting of the employers of South Wales yesterday, it was decided that the time had come to offer resistance to the tyranny of the workmen. In view of the strike coal has risen 1 shilling.

In Heligoland.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Herr Wermut, an attache of the German Foreign Office, and Capt. Geissler of the German Navy, have arrived at Heligoland, whither they were sent to make arrangements for the transfer of the island to Germany.

The Cremation Congress.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—The International Cremation Congress has appointed a committee consisting of members from the different countries represented at the Congress, for the purpose of furthering the movement for the cremation of the dead.

The Panama Canal.

PARIS, Aug. 7.—The report of the liquidators of the Panama Canal Co. has been presented to the Tribunal of the Seine. According to their report the total expenditure of the company thus far amount to 1,313,000 francs. The assets on March 3 were 16,000,000 francs.

The Cholera.

CAIRO, Aug. 7.—Cholera is raging at Jeddah. The number of deaths average 100 daily.

AT MADRID.

MADRID, Aug. 7.—A death from cholera has occurred in this city.

Dominion Doings.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Aug. 7.—Sir Charles Tupper has advised the Department of Agriculture that the steamer Iowa, from Boston, landed 356 swine at Liverpool, among which were seven affected with swine fever. They were ordered to be slaughtered. The steamship Kansas from Boston also landed at Liverpool 357 swine, twenty-three of which were affected with the fever. They were also said to be slaughtered.

MOFFATT COLLEGE BURNED.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Aug. 7.—Word reached here this morning that Moffatt College on Isle Penot, ten miles from here, has been burned to the ground. Over 300 students were in attendance at the college, and they are now quartered in outbuildings and farm houses. There was no loss of life so far as known.

Foreign News in Brief.

Mr. Henry George and wife have arrived in London. Mr. George is in excellent health and spirits and expects large results from his visit to Australia.

Eight hundred laborers employed on the docks at Gloucester have struck.

ON THE SLY.

Managing Editor Dunlap and Mrs. Wilbur F. Storey Quietly Married.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—Greatly to the surprise of their friends and the newspaper fraternity generally Joseph Dunlap, managing editor of the Times, and Mrs. Storey, widow of Wilbur F. Storey, the founder, and at one time sole owner of that paper, were quietly married yesterday afternoon. Prof. Swing performed the ceremony, ex-Senator and Mrs. Lyman Trumbull being the only attendants. The newly wedded pair immediately started on their bridal tour in the East. Mr. Dunlap, who has been connected off and on with the Times for many years in different editorial capacities, looked after Mrs. Storey's interest in the paper, and himself acquired an interest in the paper. Besides being managing editor of the Times Mr. Dunlap represents the syndicate controlling it.

A Rich Pocket-Book Vender.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—Edward Trensch, a man about 60 years of age, and supposedly a poor pocket-book vender who had a little stand on Randolph street, dropped dead of heart disease this morning, a few minutes after he opened up his little place for business. The attendants at the Morgue were somewhat astonished, when preparing the body for burial, to find sewn in the underclothing the respectable sum of over $4,000 and a deed to the house in which he had lived.

THE management of the Union Depot notifies the public that in order to secure the proper forwarding of the large amount of baggage of passengers leaving the city on the 8th, 9th and 10th inst. it will be necessary to have it ready for delivery to wagons of St. Louis Transfer Company at least two hours before departure of trains.

"A BRUTAL AFFAIR."

Comments of the Eastern Press on the Kemmler Execution.

The Awe and Mystery of Death Intensified a Thousand-Fold.

Dr. Shrady, the Expert, Condemns the Triumph of Science—The London Press on the "Revolting Exhibition"—Opinions of Electricians—Something About the Record of the Voltage—Dr. Southwick, the Father of the Electrical Execution Law, Defends the New Mode of Executing Murderers—Various Arguments Pro and Con.

AUBURN, N. Y., Aug. 7.—The subject which continues to excite the greatest interest in connection with the Kemmler execution is the record of the voltage of the shock which killed him. It has been generally supposed that the first shock was 1,300 volts and the second between 1,500 and 2,000. Electrician Barnes, who was in the dynamo room, said to one of the physicians in attendance yesterday that at no time was the voltage more than 1,100, and that it fell frequently to 800. Dr. Daniels of Buffalo, who performed the delicate work of removing the brain and spinal cord of the dead man at the autopsy, has gone home taking with him parts of the spinal cord and other specimens for experiment. It is learned to-day for the first time that in the consultation of the doctors Tuesday night Warden Durston made a proposition to hold the execution at 9 o'clock that night, but it was determined by a vote of those present that it would be better to hold it in the daytime. Warden Durston stated to a United Press reporter this afternoon that the remains of Kemmler still lie in the room in the prison where the autopsy was held yesterday. He has not decided where the remains will be finally buried.

Dr. Shrady's Opinion.

AUBURN, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Dr. George F. Shrady, editor of the Medical Record of New York, telegraphed an editorial to his paper last evening, in which he says:

"Although science has triumphed, the question of the humanity of the act is still an open one. But shall we call it a triumph when the object obtained was the killing of a fellow being? Heretofore the proudest claim of science has been to save or at least to prolong human life and insure for its possessor the greatest enjoyment of its many bounties. In this instance it has been plainly diverted from its course under a paradoxical plea of high humanity. And yet men of science have lent their best efforts in this direction to humor the whims of a few cranks and 'world betterers,' who imagined they could make legal murder a fine art and enforce it into an element of sentimentality which might rob it of its atrocity. While we allow that electricity has been a success as far as the killing is concerned, we must also admit that we have gained little if anything over the ordinary method of execution by hanging. The preliminaries of electrothanasia are far from pleasant to contemplate. Alongside of those for hanging they are pretentiously horrible. There is something more than weird in the preparation of the machine, the deliberate fixation of the victim, the adjustment of the electrode and the thousand deaths in contemplating one which more than offsets the quick though 'damnable taking off.' The horrors, though hidden, are nevertheless felt. There is something else to be thought of than the mere quickness of death. While the latter might have been triumphantly done, the agony of the criminal during the preparation must be terrible as compared with that of hanging. It becomes a serious question if humanity is not paying too dear a price for instantaneous demolition. The awe and mystery of death are intensified a thousand fold in anticipation of what this instrument of subtle power may do as compared with either the noose or the rope, the grip of the garroter, the smart of the knout, the bore of the bullet or the chop of the ax. And yet to harness the lightning and bolt it through a human body is thought to be one of the advances of the nineteenth century.

"The experiences in the Kemmler case, in spite of all the precautions taken, have shown many difficulties in the way of a general adoption of the method. It is far from simple in its application. It requires elaborate and careful preparation, it multiplies machinery, which without expert manipulation is liable to fail in its working and bring about disastrous results; it may be a source of danger to the executioners and spectators; it increases the expense of executions; but worse than all, in the necessary preparation of the victim there is crowded upon him in a few seconds an amount of horror and suspense which has no comparison with any other form of rapid demolition, save those of being thrust into the muzzle of a loaded cannon or tied to a dynamite bomb. When it is assumed that the ends of justice and humanity are reached by the contrivance in question, and when it must be admitted that even this method cannot be divested either of cruelty or barbarity, the way seems to be open for the discussion of the abolition of capital punishment altogether."

Dr. Spitzka's Card.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Dr. Spitzka, who was present at the execution of Wm. Kemmler at Auburn prison, yesterday, makes the following statement:

"The assertion attributed to a physician from Buffalo that the undersigned ordered currents stopped or in any way directed the steps rendered necessary at the Kemmler execution is utterly unfounded. No one in the execution chamber knew or could know anything about the voltage, nor did any one order the current turned off. It was turned off in accordance with a previous understanding. Dr. Carlos McDonald and myself (between whom and myself complete harmony existed), on being asked by the warden what time should be taken, agreed to fifteen seconds and actually seventeen were allowed to elapse. When Kemmler's death appeared doubtful I suggested in a hurried way to the warden to have it instantly turned on again, and it was the warden who gave the order then and there. I went to Auburn solely to make the examination of the brain, and not as an 'assistant executioner.' The dynamo, as judged by the action of Kemmler's body, acted very irregularly. The source of this it will be interesting to ascertain, as well as the animus which dictated the gratuitous and untrue statements of the person alluded to, if really made by him. As an avowed opponent, and as one known to be such, of the electrical method, I went to Auburn. Under these circumstances it were scarcely consistent for me to volunteer as a performer of that method. Had either my associate, Dr. Carlos McDonald, or myself been able to anticipate such misstatements being make, we certainly should have declined to act in the medical capacity which we alone held. My sole suggestion, coincided with by all present—the turning on of the second current—was dictated by humanity in view of doubts as to complete destruction of life. Respectfully, E. C. SPITZKA."

Gen. Sickles Favors Electrocution.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, Sheriff of New York, in an interview yesterday expressed the opinion that the exhibition in the death chamber at Auburn prison would not have the slightest influence in securing the repealing of the law.

"Why should the law be repealed?" he asked. "Simply because this man suffered? Nonsense. He deserved to suffer, and the greater the suffering the greater will be the effect on murderous creatures of his ilk."

"But, General," suggested the reporter, "the ostensible reason why this law was substituted for the old law was that it was supposed to provide a more civilized way of putting criminals to death. Their sufferings were to be decreased as much as possible."

"Yes, I understand that, and let me say right here, that the maudlin sentiment of sympathy for these wife-butchers, stimulated by alleged conversion, is altogether wrong. Men like this Kemmler should be punished, and if their punishment is enhanced by that method of execution it is not a cause for sorrow by any means. But aside from that, granting that the new law was intended to make death as painless as possible, it has by no means been demonstrated that the execution was a failure. It was the first attempt, remember, and as successful, I presume, as was the first attempt at hanging a murderer or crucifying him. Electrocution is an art that has to be acquired by practice, and after three or four scoundrels have been put out of the way by this method it will no doubt move more easy."

"Then you are not in favor of abrogating the law?"

"By no means. I guess it is a very good law. It provides a good way of punishing persons whose minds run to slaughter, and the terrors of it will make the assassin pause before he murders his victim with the knife or pistol, with poison or the club. There will be no trouble at all, and the fellows who think it's a good time to carry out their murderous designs on defenseless women because a sickly sympathy has been worked up for Kemmler had better go slow. They will be shuffled off right along without a hitch of any consequence."

Declares It a Success.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Dr. A. Southwick, father of the electrical execution law, said to-day in an interview: "I feel just as I have always felt on this matter. There is nothing against the system at all and the fact is there has been a great deal of senseless sensational talk about the execution. For instance the big story in regard to the sickening spectacle of froth, saliva, etc., coming from Kemmler's mouth is ridiculous. It was a perfectly natural thing and was caused by the muscular contraction of the stomach. It was nothing unusual at all. In fact a party of ladies could sit in a room where an execution of this kind was going on and not see anything repulsive whatever. If the mistake of ordering off the current so quickly had not been made there would have been none of this talk. The burning of the flesh was also exaggerated. That was caused simply by the fact that the sponge under the electrode was too small. A light current was passing through then, and the sponge having dried out the electrode just touched the skin. I think Kemmler's nerve affected those thereabout, as much as anything. It looked to me, though, as evidence of mental incapacity. He seemed to be without fear, and helped to adjust the straps in a way that was simply astonishing. No sir; I do not consider that this will be the last execution by electricity. There will be lots of them. It has proven that the idea is correct, and I think the law is the best one. The execution was a success. Kemmler never knew what happened him, and died absolutely without pain."

Opinions of Electricians.

PITTSBURG, Pa., August 7.—George Westinghouse, Jr., of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., declined to talk about the execution, but added that it was a brutal affair and could have been better done with an ax. The public, he said, would lay the blame where it belonged, and it would not be on his associates.

A. T. Rowland, Secretary of the company, said: "From what I have been able to learn, I am of the opinion this will be the first and last execution of the kind in this country, at least I hope so. I am inclined to think Kemmler was not killed by electricity, but that when the application of the 1,300 volts roasted and sizzled him the executioners completed the horrible work by hitting him on the head with a club."

Manager Silverman of the Edison Co. said the 1,300 volts received by Kemmler was enough to kill any man instantly. The execution had turned out as he anticipated, and he thought it would be the last.

Favors Electricity.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Deputy Coroner Wm. T. Jenkins returned to this city, after having witnessed the Kemmler execution. He said that he believed that if the current had been kept on continuously Kemmler would have died easily. He did not know who it was that ordered the current shut off after the first shock, when it was thought that life was extinct. He thinks killing is preferable by electricity than by hanging, providing the current is continuous until life is extinct.

Eastern Press Comments.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Commenting on the execution of Kemmler at Auburn yesterday, the WORLD says editorially this morning: "The first experiment in electric execution should be the last. Its results strongly condemn this method of putting criminals to death as very cruel and very shocking. The effect upon the witnesses was sickening. The effect upon the public is still more shocking. The electric execution law ought now to be repealed on all accounts. So long as it stands convictions for capital offenses will be difficult to the point of impossibility. Juries will not willingly condemn men to death by torture."

SCIENTIFIC CURIOSITY GRATIFIED.

The Sun says: "The first duty of the next Legislature will be to repeal the electrical execution law and to restore the old method of administering the death sentence by hanging. Scientific curiosity has been gratified sufficiently by this one awful experiment. The present generation is not likely to hear of another such scene of horrible uncertainty, unknown torture and heart-sickening circumstances as was witnessed yesterday morning by the assistants at the judicial experiment upon the body of Wm. Kemmler. Civilization will find other lines on which to manifest its progress."

STRONGLY CONDEMNED.

The Press says: "It will not mend matters at all to say that there was ignorant bungling on the part of the executioners; that the first current was not kept on long enough or the last too long. It was argued in behalf of this mode of execution that death was to be instantaneous, lightning-like, painless, and that the maudlin hero-worship attending the dramatic march of the nervy murderer to the scaffold was to be done away with and a secret and mysterious taking off, devoid of sensational features, to be substituted. The act went so foolishly far as to prohibit the newspapers from publishing the details of such an execution—a prohibition which, by the way, they most properly and completely ignored yesterday. The age of burning at the stake is past; the age of burning at wire, the will also pass."

TRY AGAIN.

The Tribune says: "The execution cannot be regarded as anything more than an experiment, and as an experiment it was not a complete success. Unquestionably there were serious defects in Warden Durston's mechanical arrangements. To these, which can, of course, easily be obviated hereafter, some of the horrors of this particular case may be ascribed. While we cannot consider it settled that the law should endure, further tests of its desirability should be had. These will be in the interests of mercy and civilization. Kemmler's sufferings, whatever they may have been, were certainly no greater than he would have had to endure had he been choked to death, and they were probably infinitely less."

DOCTORS AND ELECTRICIANS TO BLAME.

The Herald says: "While yesterday's experiment was a failure it does not show that this mode of inflicting the death penalty is not a success. The failure was due not to the system but the bungling, inefficient way in which the execution was managed. The fault was with the doctors and the electricians. The bungling work does not prove that execution by electricity is a failure. It does not warrant a return to the barbarity of the gallows. Had the execution been properly and efficiently managed it would have proved the success of the new system beyond all dispute. An electric light concern should not be allowed to take advantage of the failure to further its own private interests."

NOT A FAILURE.

The Times says: "It is unfortunate for the cause of execution by electricity that its first trial was badly bungled. No doubt the advocates of this method of executing the death penalty are for the moment put upon the defensive, but they have not a failure of the method to face. It would be absurd to talk of abandoning the law and going back to the barbarism of hanging, and it would be as puerile to propose to abolish capital punishment because the new mode of execution was botched in its first application."

IT MAY BE A GOOD METHOD.

The Star says: "The execution yesterday was not smoothly successful. There was blundering, but there have been blunders in executions by hanging. One instance of this kind does not establish the inutility of electricity any more than an accident on the gallows heretofore is a conclusive argument against the rope. Until the specialists have had time to recover, and can give us their thoughtful conclusions, it is not possible to form a decided opinion regarding the practicability of this method of execution."

Nearly All of the Same Opinion.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 7.—The morning papers comment on Kemmler's electrocution as follows:

The Globe says: "The killing of criminals by electricity appears to be a ghastly failure. If investigation shall fully establish the truth of the sickening story that comes from the prison, there will never be another legal killing by electricity in this or any other country."

MEASURABLY SUCCESSFUL.

The Journal says: "The relative humanity of the new method as compared with the old must turn upon the question whether the prisoner was conscious during the delay. The physicians present are agreed that there was no suffering after the first shock, and if they are correct in that opinion the experiment may perhaps be regarded as measurably successful, though the results are hardly such as to warrant a general adoption of the new method."

A FAILURE.

The Advertiser says: "It was sought by the new law to provide for the instant death of the criminal, at a time and in a manner which would rob an execution of the morbid sensationalism which attended a death on the gallows. In respect to the criminal the law was successful. But as regards the effect of its operation upon society it was successful only so far as it kept from the scene of death a large number of spectators. In all other essential respects it was a failure.

THE VICTIM'S SUFFERINGS.

The Herald says: "There has been, perhaps, no person under capital sentence in modern times who has passed through such an ordeal of mental suffering as has Kemmler. He has had to pass through repeated periods of elation and depression, has had to prepare to meet death, and then to find the work of preparation unnecessary, so that in his case the terrors incident to capital punishment have been doubly intensified."

NOT A DECENT METHOD.

The Post says: "As to the comparative merit of electricity and the gallows, the experiment at Auburn has shown that the former is effective, but it has by no means proved that it is more decent than the latter, and has left an impression that it is far more liable to accident and far less certain than the method which it supplants. The test which New York has made should deter others from adopting the system, at least until further demonstration is made."

The London Press.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—This morning the papers comment exhaustively on the execution of Kemmler and all agree in denouncing it as barbarous. The Telegraph describes it as horrible and atrocious and adds: "If such a death be recommended for its mercy, electrical execution must be brought to a greater degree of perfection."

The Chronicle says: "Seldom has a narrative more repulsive and horrible shocked public opinion. The guillotine or the hangman's rope does not compare in point of cold-blooded barbarism with this achievement of modern science in an ill-starred attempt to better the deeds of Jack Ketch."

The Times says: "It is impossible to imagine a more revolting exhibition. We fail to see that electrical execution holds out a prospect of definite gain in the direction of humanity."

The Standard says: "The execution will send a thrill of indignation through the civilized world. The scene may be described as a disgrace to our common humanity. The demoralizing effect of the scandalous scene upon the people of America cannot be overestimated, they having latterly developed a craze for inhuman levity."

BLAND AND MILLS.

The Two Congressmen at Jefferson City—War on Vance.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 7.—Richard P. Bland, Congressman from the Eleventh Missouri District, who was yesterday nominated for the ninth re-election, by the Democratic Convention, spoke at great length after the nomination in the hall of the House of Representatives. His speech was mainly on the silver bill and the probable action of the administration under it. Several paragraphs were devoted to the tariff. Roger Q. Mills of Texas was introduced by Mr. Bland. He eulogized Bland and devoted half an hour to the tariff.

Jasper County Union Labor Ticket.

CARTHAGE, Mo., Aug. 7.—The Union Labor party of Jasper County held its convention here yesterday and nominated a straight ticket. Resolutions were adopted declaring against fusion with either of the old parties.

A Congressional Deadlock.

BUTLER, Mo., Aug. 6.—The Second Congressional District Democratic Convention met here yesterday afternoon and effected an organization by electing C. A. Colvert of Clinton Chairman, and J. W. Crockett of Nevada, Secretary. The names of Morgan of Barton, Dearmond of Bates, Givan of Cass, Ladue of Henry, Hill of Jasper and Grantley of St. Clair were then placed in nomination. Twenty-four ballots were taken without a choice, and the prospects favor a protracted deadlock. The last ballot stood: Dearmond, 21; Ladue, 20; Morgan, 14; Govern, 18; Grantley, 6; Hill, 16. Necessary to a choice, 49.

Vance and the Farmers' Alliance.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 7.—The warfare of the Farmers' Alliance and the Richmond & Danville Railroad against Senator Vance grows apace and is exciting much interest. It has been supposed by Democrats, outside of the Alliance, that that organization having named seven out of nine Congressional nominees, no formidable attempt would be made to defeat the Senator. It appears, however, that the farmers will determinedly oppose Mr. Vance because of his stand on the Sub-Treasury bill.

Oklahoma Democrats.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7.—The Times-Democrat's correspondent at Oklahoma City, O. T., wires: The first election ever held in this Territory passed off quietly yesterday and no trouble is reported from any part of the Territory. In this county (Oklahoma), 3,500 votes were cast. Both parties fought hard for the supremacy. The Territory has gone Democratic by a small majority.

Washington County Republicans.

POTOSI, Mo., Aug. 7.—The Washington County Republican Committee has issued a call for a mass-meeting, August 23, to select delegates to the State Convention.

Crain Renominated.

BEEVILLE, Tex., Aug. 7.—Congressman Crain has been renominated by the Democrats of the Seventh District.

THE PATRIARCHS MILITANT.

A Big Kick on Account of Charges—Railroads Dissatisfied.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—The great Triennial Cantonment, I. O. O. F., is developing numerous cases of friction, so at least some of the Chicago papers intimate. The Daily News says:

The California and other Western cantons say they have not been treated fairly in the matter of railroad rates. They are accordingly present in fewer numbers than they expected to be, and those who are here are mad. Then the troop of Lancers from Denver feel hurt because the Junior Hussars of Columbus, O., who did not come half as far as they did, are given a better position than they are in the Generalissimo's staff corps. Then there is a great big widespread kick because the coupon tickets attached to the excursion railroad tickets only admit to the grounds, but do not entitle the holder to a seat. The seats in the grand stand are extra. It costs 25 cents for a seat on the bleaching boards, 50 cents for a seat on a rough plank with another rough plank for a back, and $1 for a chair in the central section of the grand stand. The brethren and sisters of the three links do not like this. When they bought their railroad tickets and paid $1 extra for six coupons admitting them to the grounds on six separate days, they thought that meant a seat in the grand stand also. When they find it does not they get mad and say Gen. Underwood has swindled them. Gen. Underwood was asked what he had to say about these complaints.

"I have nothing, to do with this railroad business," he said, "and I won't be annoyed with it. I made arrangements with the railroads for a three-quarters fare for the round trip for men in uniform and one fare for persons not in uniform. As a part of that contract everybody taking advantage of these rates were required to pay $1 in addition for six coupons admitting to the grounds. It was by hypothecating the prospective receipts from this source that I was enabled to raise the $25,000 for prizes and the additional $25,000 for expenses. Instructions concerning these matters was sent to every canton and lodge two months ago. Those who followed instructions have had no trouble. Those who went to dickering with the railroads on their own hook may have had trouble, but that is none of my affair. Let them settle with the railroads."

Adjutant-General Frost said in relation to the charge for seats: "This is no money making institution, but we must pay expenses. We have not called on lodges or other Odd Fellow organizations for a cent. Gen. Underwood has raised all the money necessary on his own personal guaranty. The expenses are heavy and all the money received will be devoted to paying them. A ticket for a seat purchased is good for all day. The holder can go in and out as often as he wants. A return check is given every time. There is no cause for complaint at all."

The Inter-Ocean says: "The railways are kicking. They are dissatisfied with the Cantonment. They claim that the affair is not as big as promised to be, and that, as a result, the railroads are out."

Gov. Fifer on Hand.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—The Governor last night left for Chicago, accompanied by his military staff and all the State officials, except Auditor Pavey, who is detained by sickness, and Supt. Edwards, who had another engagement. The Governor will review the cantonment to-day.

THE STOCK BROKERS.

The Damage to the Corn Crop—The Great Howl of the Bears.

By Private Wire to Gaylord, Blessing & Co.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7, 10:50 a. m.—Bullion in Bank of England decrease this week, £290,000, and reserve decrease, £609,000.

11 a. m.—Shorts are covering largely. London has sold stocks.

11:20 a. m.—Think somebody is selling long Louisville & Nashville.

12 m.—Nearly all sorts of stocks were dull yesterday under the bear manipulation, and money was bid up and market hammered to produce forced sale. The great damage to the corn crop was the main howl of the bears, and it was given out that throughout the great corn belt the loss was at least 40 and probably 50 per cent. Mr. Porter of the Rock Island road said this was probably a fair estimate of the damage resulting from the furious heat; but the crop was still a very large one and what it lacks in volume would be made up by higher prices for the grain. There is a very strong party in New England, but for the decline in other stocks yesterday it would have probably advanced. It is going up presently pretty sure, good people say who are seldom wrong. Cotton Oil Trust is also another good card when the financial weather is propitious and favorable for easy sailing against.

PALPITATION of the heart, periodical headaches, weakness and languid debility cured by Black's Ak-ro-ni-an Nerve Tonic. For sale at Anti-Monopoly Drug Store, Sixth and Market, and Pool's Pharmacy, Thirteenth and Washington av.

A Fiendish Husband.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 7.—Catharine Sweet, who lives at 129 Frankfort street, was the victim of a murderous assault about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Her husband, Jerome Sweet, 35 years, an ice peddler, for some reason unexplained, poured kerosene oil on her and set fire to her clothing. She was attended by Drs. Matthews and Sprague, who say she cannot recover. The husband was arrested later.

New Warrants.

New criminal warrants sworn out at the Four Courts charge Peter Nicholas with assault to kill Henry Wiehlo; Edward Dunn, petit larceny in stealing a quantity of ice from the Huse & Loomis Ice Co.; Philip Fietman, Henry Corbett and David Cole, petit larceny in stealing a number of fire grates from the vacant house at 823 North Twentieth street; Thomas Kiely, grand larceny in stealing $460 from Patrick Harrigan; Peter Tien, assault to kill George E. Patton; Samuel Welsor, murder in the first degree in killing Clementine Manning; Jerry Sullivan, wife abandonment.

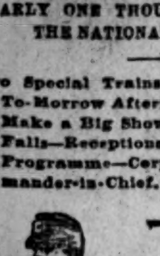
LEAVE TO-MORROW.

NEARLY ONE THOUSAND VETERANS FOR THE NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.

Two Special Trains Will Leave the Depot To-Morrow Afternoon—Ransom Post to Make a Big Showing—Visits to Niagara Falls—Receptions Along the Line—The Programme—Corporal Tanner for Commander-in-Chief.



TO-MORROW afternoon the local Grand Army Post delegations will leave for Boston, Mass., to attend the Twenty-sixth Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. About seven hundred veterans, exclusive of their wives and friends, will leave this city alone, and about two hundred to three hundred more from the interior of the State will join the St. Louis crowd here to-morrow and leave on the two special trains with them.

Ransom Post alone will have 130 members in the parade in Boston next week and will make a showing which will not take the luster from its already brilliant reputation made in the encampments of past years. Few posts in the country have sent as many delegates to national encampments as the Ransom Post, and it has become so well known that it is looked for in the line and always greeted with cheers.

MEET AT GRANT'S MONUMENT.

To-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the members will assemble at the Grant monument on Twelfth street and march in ranks to the Union Depot, with a band. A special Bee Line train will be in waiting, decorated with flags, bunting and streamers. The veterans will take breakfast Saturday morning in Cleveland and dinner in Buffalo. A few hours will be spent at Niagara alls. They will take breakfast at Worcester, ss., and arrive in Boston about Sunday son. The post will proceed to Montgomery uards' Hall, 114 Chauncey street, and at 9 a. n. they will form for the parade.

THE DEPARTMENT OF MISSOURI.

The Department of Missouri, G. A. R., will also have a special Wabash train which will leave at 3 o'clock, ahead of the Ransom Post train. There will be about five hundred persons on this train. Frank P. Blair Post, No. 1, will act as escort to the Department Commander, Leo Rassieur, and Adjutant T. B. Rogers and delegations from Hassendeubel Post, No. 13; Lyon Post, No. 1, and Col. Shaw Post, No. 343, will be on the same train. Other delegations from Grand Army posts in the interior of the State will join the Department Commander and leave on the same special train. This crowd will take a different route from that of the Ransom Post, going to Detroit, Niagara Falls, Buffalo and over the Hoosac Tunnel route to Boston, arriving there about the same time. The citizens of Detroit have arranged a reception for the Missouri crowd and will meet the train at the depot. After breakfast an excursion will be given to the parks by boat, and a few hours later the delegates will see Niagara Falls.

PROGRAMME FOR THE WEEK.

The programme for the week in Boston is a very extensive one, and to carry it out the citizens of that city have subscribed $30,000.

Monday will be given up to the reception of visitors on their arrival by train and boat. In the evening, John A. Andrew Post 15, will give Gov. Hovey of Indiana a reception at Faneuil Hall.

Tuesday, August 12, grand parade of the veterans. The column will be formed on Commonwealth avenue, and move over the following route: East side of avenue to Arlington, Boylston, Huntington avenue, West Chester Park and Washington street to Adams Square and Hanover street, where the line will be dismissed. The route will be four and one-half miles long.

In the evening a formal reception to the visitors at the Mechanics' Institute building; addresses of welcome by Gov. Brackett, Mayor Hart, Department Commander Innis, G. A. R.; Department President Knowles, W. R. C., and responses by Commander-in-Chief Alger and National President Wittenmeyer.

Wednesday, August 13—Opening session of the National Encampment, G. A. R., in Music Hall, on Winter street, and the National Convention, W. R. C., in Tremont Temple, on Tremont street.

In the evening a grand camp-fire in Mechanics' Institute Building, to which the badge of the Grand Army, Woman's Relief Corps or Sons of Veterans will give admission.

Thursday, August 14—Session of the National Encampment and National Convention concluded.

In the evening a grand banquet to the delegates of the National Encampment and invited guests.

Friday, August 15—Excursion of the delegates to both meetings to historic Plymouth, where Pilgrim Hall will be thrown open to the visitors and a clam banquet be given.

In the evening a camp fire will be given at Tremont Temple by the Woman's Relief Corps.

Saturday, August 16—A steamboat excursion down the harbor and along the North Shore to the delegates to the National Encampment.

A SWORD TO A POPULAR VETERAN.

Some time during this week, a gold and jewelled sword, valued at $1,000, will be presented to the most popular Grand Army veteran by the Boston Globe in the Convention Hall. Voting has been going on for some time.

Private Dalzell has been talked of a great deal for Commander-in-Chief, but in a letter to a friend in Boston, written a few days ago, he withdraws in favor of Corporal Tanner, who has grown to be quite a popular candidate for the highest position in the gift of the veterans.

The other candidates known up to date are Veazie of Vermont, Smedberg of California, Hovey of Indiana and Weissert of Wisconsin. For the office of Senior Vice-Commander-in-Chief, the names of Capt. John G. Adams, Past Department Commander George H. Innis and Col. Benj. S. Lovell are mentioned.

An order has been issued by the Executive Committee forbidding carriages in the parade, but makes the exception if Col. Alger or Gen. Sherman wish to ride. A hearty protest has been entered by a number of veterans who cannot walk or ride horseback, but who say they will take part in the parade and will ride in carriages. They say they do not think they will be put out of line for so doing.

The most interesting contest of the Encampment will be the struggle between Detroit and Washington for the next Encampment and both cities want it.

A WARRANT FOR WELSOR.

Mrs. Clementine Manning's Slayer Charged With Murder in the First Degree.

Assistant-Prosecuting Attorney Dierkes issued a warrant this morning charging Samuel Welsor with murder in the first degree. Welsor is the bartender who on the morning of last Monday shot and almost instantly killed Mrs. Clementine Manning. The woman was a widow of shady repute, and lived with her sister at 1014 Walnut street. Three months ago she drew $5,000 in a Southern lottery. Welsor, who was her former lover, heard of the windfall and renewed his attentions. Mrs. Manning disliked the man and avoided him as much as possible. A little before noon Monday he called at her house, and asked her to go out riding. She put him off with an excuse. Welsor sent the sister from the room and then fired five times at his helpless victim. Four of the balls pierced her body, one passing through the left wrist, another lodging in the left breast, two others passing entirely through the abdominal cavity. The fifth ball shattered the panel of the door. Welsor was caught at the door by a young blacksmith, who held him until the arrival of Sergt. Shoemaker. Less than an hour later Mrs. Manning died while undergoing an operation. Welsor took the news of her death very coolly, insisting that he did not care how soon he was taken out and strung up. He at first refused to make any statement whatever, but later told that the woman had used vile and insulting language which so enraged him that he drew his revolver and shot her before he realized what he was doing. He insisted that he afterwards put the weapon to his own head and pulled the trigger, forgetting that he had emptied every chamber. There were no eye witnesses to the tragedy, but sufficient circumstantial evidence can be obtained to make a strong case of murder in the first degree. Welsor is a single man known in police circles as a dissolute and determined character.

Carondelet Jottings.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffmeister have returned from a lengthy visit to the Northern lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dyer returned this morning from a visit to Niagara Falls and Eastern watering places.

To-night at 8 o'clock a Young Men's Republican Club will be organized at Turner Hall. The club proposes to send a delegation to the Congressional Convention which will convene at De Soto, Mo., within a few days.

The reception hall of the Carondelet Guards, Company H, N. G. M., has been remodeled and furnished in exquisite style for the benefit of invited guests. The boys intend to remodel and furnish the armory hall within a brief period.

The new belfry of St. Boniface Church was placed in position this afternoon. Dedication services will be held at the church, August 25, by which time the new bell (St. Boniface) will be placed in the tower. A huge clock will also be placed on the base of the tower.

Tom Miller, colored, residing near King's highway road and Gravois road, got into an altercation last night with another negro named Warne. During the melee Warne picked up a hoe and struck Miller on the arm, cutting a gash nearly three inches long. The wound was dressed by Dr. Starkloff.

The funeral of Mat C. Price, the youngest son of Capt. Charles Price, engineer of the Custom-house, who died yesterday morning, took place to-day from the family residence on Minnesota avenue. The remains were interred at Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

Next Thursday evening the Carondelet Guards will have a drill contest for a gold medal which is to be awarded to the best drilled man. The contest promises to be the most interesting event in the annals of military life and the boys are clamoring to win the coveted prize.

Since the laying of the new tracks on Broadway between Elwood street and Tesson for the electric street railway, the thoroughfare is in a very bad condition for traffic. The tracks project fully two inches higher than the street grade, and in many places along the line there is scarcely either any macadam or any dirt to fill up the road bed. Traffic is practically abandoned on this thoroughfare. People wishing to drive to the city are compelled to take the back roads to reach town. Broadway merchants are very indignant over the manner in which the street railway company has left the road, it being nearly four weeks since the work here has been completed. Numerous complaints have been made, but to no avail.

An Immediate Pardon Granted.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—John D. Cochran of Wabash County, was sentenced in November, 1888, to imprisonment for life for the murder of John Buckenberger of Evansville, Ind. Application for his pardon was filed and Gov. Fifer has reviewed the case thoroughly. He finds that subsequent to Cochran's incarceration satisfactory evidence was produced to show that Buckenberger committed suicide, and an immediate pardon was granted.

LODGE NOTICES.

THE members of Washington Lodge, No. 24, I. O. O. F., are requested to attend the regular meeting to-morrow (Friday) evening. Double initiation. Visiting brethren are fraternally invited.

CONVINCING!!!

ST. LOUIS, MO., Aug. 6, 1890.

I hereby certify that I owe my present prosperity to Mrs. Ros. Sabine's

MAGIC BELT.

While I formerly had always very bad luck and the greatest difficulty to obtain employment I now am never out of a situation and always receive good wages. I consider the Magic Belt a most wonderful article and recommend it heartily.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of August, 1890.
[Seal.] PHIL. H. ZEPP,
Clerk Circuit Court, City of St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 29, 1890.

I hereby wish to state that my family and I, after twelve years' misfortune, were saved through the powers of

MRS. ROS. SABINE,

1410 Pine St.

All my undertakings formerly were a failure. My wife and four children and I were always troubled with critical diseases. In a few days, after she had commenced her treatment, we all felt a great change. The past year we have had luck with all our undertakings and have plenty of work, which, as we are convinced, could not have been without her aid.

I recommend her greatly.

TRUSTEE'S SALE—Whereas, James Morrissey, by his certain deed of trust dated May 27th, A. D., 1889, and of record in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of the City of St. Louis, in Book 901, at page 487, did convey to the undersigned trustee in trust, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note referred to and described in said deed, the following lot or parcel of ground lying and being in the City of St. Louis and State of Missouri, and in said deed described as follows to-wit: The lot known and designated at lot 6 in lot or block 5 on the plat of the subdivision of tract Z of the Ann Biddle estate in the city of St. Louis as said plat appears on file in the office of the Recorder of Deeds for said city of St. Louis in plat book 5 at page 20, which lot fronts 25 feet on the north line of O'Fallon street, and with that width runs back northwardly 84 feet 3 inches more or less, and being the same lot of ground acquired by James Morrissey from Henry D. Laughlin and wife by deed dated November 17, 1888.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of said note, which is now past due and remains unpaid and in the terms of said deed.

Now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said note, I will, on FRIDAY, THE 8TH DAY OF AUGUST, A. D. 1890, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. of that day, at the east front door of the court-house in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, sell the above-described real estate at public vendue to the highest bidder, for cash, for the purposes of said trust.
HENRY D. LAUGHLIN, Trustee.

IF Harbor Commissioner MURPHY were a good civil engineer he would doubtless make a good Street Commissioner.

REED and MCKINLEY should bear in mind that BLAINE is loaded for bear in his reciprocity fight before tackling him.

SHALL it be written hereafter "Me too, INGALLS?" The meteoric statesman certainly seems to have passed into the shadow of his bigger colleague.

THE Kemmler execution matter which filled the morning papers of to-day was a twice told tale to the great majority of readers, who had of course read it in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH.

MAJ. MURPHY has made an excellent Harbor Commissioner, and it would be foolish to take him out of an office for which he has proved himself fit and place him in an office for which he lacks the prime qualification.

WE can hardly believe that Mayor NOONAN wanted to employ an attorney to superintend the construction of the new City Hall, but the nomination of Maj. MURPHY as Street Commissioner lends a color of truth to the suspicion.

THE nomination of Harbor Commissioner MURPHY for the Street Commissionership may be perfectly square, but it has the marks of a trick of the Mayor to create a vacancy which will be more manageable in a political way.

SENATOR QUAY declares that the Federal election bill will not pass at this session of Congress, and he is in a position to know something about it; but this opinion should not check the efforts of patriotic Republicans to assure the defeat of the measure.

"SILVER DOLLAR" BLAND'S opposition to the warehouse silver bill did not prevent his renomination for Congress, as some Republican organs hinted it might. Mr. BLAND'S record on silver coinage was not damaged by his vote on the conference silver bill.

THE nine Republicans who voted with the Democrats against the original package bill included FRANK and KINSEY of St. Louis. Mr. NIEDRINGHAUS did not vote, but said he would have voted against the bill if he could have had a chance to explain why he opposed it. So, if he had voted, the Missouri delegation would have been in solid opposition to the measure.

IF the Council consents to the transfer of Maj. MURPHY to the office of Street Commissioner it will surrender the principle it has been contending for, abandon the unbroken line of precedent it has been sustaining and help the Mayor to gain two points instead of one in his effort to substitute practical politics for civil engineering in the Board of Public Improvements.

THE rejoicing of Republican organs over the prospective splitting of the Democratic party in many States by the Farmers' Alliance is premature. There may be points of departure from Democratic principles in some of the Alliance platforms, but in none of them which have been promulgated is there a single point of contact with the present Republican policy. The farmers promise to act merely as a corrective on Democracy.

THE Republican convention in Nebraska broke out into a storm of cheers for BLAINE when one of its members undertook to oppose reciprocity; and the Chicago Tribune refers to MCKINLEY as "a man whose highest ideal of statesmanship is to make life harder for the consumer and easier for a few pampered and petted favorites, chief among them being the men who make up the Sugar "Trust." It looks now as if the Democrats might afford to stand back and let the Republicans fight the tariff question out among themselves.

TREADING ON A VOLCANO.

The drought which has been broken by only light local showers and which extends over a vast area of country has become a public calamity. The sun has blazed upon dry land until it blasts and blights. The corn is burning in the fields and vegetables are withering in the gardens. The market prices have a sky-rocket tendency and the gloom of the agriculturist is shared by all the people.

The worst effect of the dry weather has been wrought upon the corn crop, which has been damaged to an enormous extent. This affects the stock interests and with the shortness of the wheat crop the prices of both meat and bread are forced up. The largely increased cost of vegetables completes the influences which combine to make living high, in strong contrast with the conditions of last year when abundance prevailed.

There is of course no danger of famine in this country, but the situation will impose severe hardship on the poor and will afford opportunity for speculators to oppress the people. In some respects, however, a season of scarcity may prove a blessing in disguise in that it teaches lessons of thrift and economy and directs the attention of the people more keenly to the conduct of their public servants. When the shoe is tight every pinch is noted, and so when times are hard citizens watch expenditures and consider public burdens.

The fact that the producers in general are not prospering induces the people to seek reasons for the prosperity of a favored few, and the high price of food makes them feel the high prices created for other articles by taxation. Under the circumstances the men who are tinkering with the tariff in the interest of the manufacturers alone are treading on a volcano.

AS FAR as can be determined from the reports of the execution of KEMMLER the unpleasant features of it were due to the blunders of the men in charge rather than to the mode of execution. The current which passed through KEMMLER'S body was probably not quite strong enough and was cut off earlier than it should have been. The burning of flesh was caused by the too long continuation of the second application of the strengthened current and the consequent drying of the sponges in the electrodes, which were not properly adjusted in the first place. Execution by electricity cannot, therefore, be pronounced a failure on this first mismanaged experiment. But even the bungling work which was done yesterday did not bring more repulsive results than attend the average hanging.

THE Supreme Court has decided again and again that the protection of the interstate-commerce provision of the constitution gives the importer the right to sell any article of commerce, State law to the contrary notwithstanding, and that no State can prohibit its own citizens from importing articles from other States for their own use and consumption. Congress has now passed, and the President will probably approve, an act to nullify the constitution as interpreted by the Supreme Court so far as liquor is concerned, while leaving importers of oleomargarine, adulterated lard and all other prohibited articles free to sell the same in spite of State law. The act is on its face a mere political trick to hold the Prohibition vote in the Republican ranks.

THE provision in the ordinance now before the Municipal Assembly granting a franchise to a new gas company which reserves to the city all the net profits of the corporation above 8 per cent on the capital within the limit of $50,000, after which the city and company share equally in the surplus, is modeled on the right lines. The terms may require modification in detail, but the point to be gained is the sharing by the city in the earnings of the company above a fair compensation for the risk and use of the capital employed. Capital has no right to expect more than this out of a valuable privilege granted by the city and the municipality is entitled to surplus profits accruing from the unearned increase in the value of the franchise.

THE House receded from its substitute and passed the Wilson original package bill, which will now go to the President in the very same shape in which it passed the Senate. That is to say, it enacts that the protection afforded by Supreme Court decisions to all other articles of commerce shall be withdrawn from intoxicating liquors, and that these shall be subject to the prohibitory laws of any State into which they may be imported and held for sale or use therein. If the Supreme Court holds this act constitutional and valid, it will simply operate as a Federal statute reinforcing the effort of any State to prevent its citizens from importing liquors for their own use.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

JACK POT.—In the case you mention, player No. 2 bets first.

ST. CHARLES.—There are no statistics available giving the average tariff on articles entering the Argentine Republic.

DEMOCRAT.—The information as to Congressional districts, etc., that you desire can be found in the statutes of the State.

J. B. H.—If your house is built on imperfectly drained land it will be very difficult to prevent the cellar from becoming damp. To have it thoroughly grouted would help matters.

H. R. T.—1. It would be entirely proper to address an unmarried lady by her maiden name, considering the fact that she has no married name. 2. You can have your name changed by act of legislature. 3. Your handwriting is decidedly inferior.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

MAJ. M. J. MURPHY NOMINATED FOR THE STREET COMMISSIONERSHIP.

His Name Sent In and Mark A. Shipley's Withdrawn—The Chances He Has of Confirmation Slim—Cottrill Makes a Kick—Councilman Vogel Distinguishes Himself—Municipal Matters.

The Street Commissioner business took another flop last night and lit wrong side up as usual and left matters in a worse condition than they were before. The Council showed its teeth and gave the Mayor a pointer, and the Mayor put the Council in a position to score a point against him. The plain statement of the case is that Mark A. Shipley's name was withdrawn and that of M. J. Murphy substituted. The proceeding was, however, complicated by a Reed like disposition of Mr. Comfort's to rule in a way without precedent. He undertook to say that the name could not be withdrawn and Mr. Horton went him one better by proposing to submit the withdrawal to the committee in whose hands the nomination was. Both gentlemen came to their senses, however, after talking some, and now M. J. Murphy, the present Harbor and Wharf Commissioner, is the mark for the Council. The action of the Council in trying to prevent the withdrawal of Shipley indicates that they do not propose to take action on his name and wanted to hang his nomination until fall. This they felt they could do, as no one ever expected them to confirm him. With Murphy it is different. His allowing his name to go in led them to believe that he saw his way to confirmation, and that was a chance they did not want to take. If Murphy becomes Street Commissioner some one else must be Harbor Commissioner, and there is another opening for the Mayor to anticipate the regular April appointments of next year.

As to Maj. Murphy's chances for confirmation the knowing ones seem to disagree. Many think that his good record in the Harbor office will carry him through, but others argue that as he needs the votes of all the Councilmen now in the city he will fail, as the seven here are not believed to be well disposed towards him. Mr. Murphy himself has reached a point where he finds that he is as much at sea over his prospects and does not feel able to call the turn. He lives in hopes and tries to believe that he has not made a break by letting his name go before the Council. The suspense will not be long, as the Assembly adjourns on Saturday.

Cottrill Crying Boodle.

Mr. Cottrill, the bill poster, still carries on the cry of boodle and has not given up the idea of getting the fence around the Washington Park for his own uses. The fence was erected under an informal agreement between McNair & Farish, the architects of the new City Hall, G. R. Mann and President Burnet of the Board of Public Improvements. Cottrill was left out and had to buy what space he got. He now proposes to have this matter fixed and get the fence himself. He has in his pocket a letter from his attorney, Chester H. Krum, who says that the Board of Public Improvements has no right to authorize the erection of the fence, and that the power to inclose a public park is vested in the Municipal Assembly. He says also that any licensed billposter has the right to stick his bills on a fence facing directly on a public street. The opinion of Mr. Krum is all Mr. Cottrill's way and has given the gentleman much encouragement.

In effect the opinion is that the fence does not exist in the eyes of the law.

Mr. Cottrill has not fully defined his plans, but in a general way he is determined to have the present holders ousted or the fence turned over to the licensed billposters, of which there is only one in the city.

He says he will pay the city $1,000 a year for the use of the fence and keep things in nice shape for five years. He is also positive that the persons who worked the thing through without letting him in have smirched their fingers with boodle. He says so in a very positive and unhesitating manner.

Struck a Snag.

The pontoon bridge has struck a snag, not in the river but in the Council. John Robinson, who is working the bill through and who gave the excursion to St. Charles, sassed Mr. Comfort last night and thereby risked the chances of the bill. Mr. Comfort said something about not being posted on pontoon bridges, and Mr. Robinson told him that if he had attended the excursion to St. Charles he might have picked up a little of the much needed information. As it happened Mr. Comfort was out of town at that time and could not go. It riled him to have Mr. Robinson instruct him as to his duties, and a few remarks were passed and the matter dropped. When it comes to a vote on the bill Mr. Comfort's "no," if he sees fit to vote that way, will kill the bill.

Electrical Complications.

An ordinance has made its way through the Assembly uninterrupted and scarcely observed, which, if enforced, will complicate the already complicated situation in the electrical department of the city. At first the bill looks like a harmless thing, but Mr. Vogel of the Council, who designed it, has made quite a success in this instance of constructing a Chinese puzzle.

The ordinance is an amendment of the electric wire ordinance and is supposed to provide for the erection of poles and the stringing of wires. Under this ordinance every wire strung and every pole put up must be authorized by an ordinance. Heretofore the matter was always left to the Board of Public Improvements and all erections were authorized by permits. Mr. Vogel thought the board had too much power; the board thought so too and let Mr. Vogel take a mass of very disagreeable and tedious work off their hands and put it on the Assembly. The thing was done. Now if the telephone company wants to run a wire from a pole line into a house it must get an ordinance. If the city wants a new electric light, the company, to provide it, must get an ordinance. If a store wants a cab call the cab company must have an ordinance to do it with. The 1,500 permits for poles and wires issued in the past year by the board must be replaced in the coming year by 1,500 ordinances. If a new piece of work is contemplated, as for example on electric road, the plans in detail must be made and submitted with the ordinance, and the board has no control over the matter in any way. Supervisor Matlack is of the opinion that this will set things back very much, as no work can be done unless the Council and House are in session.

Delay in Sprinkling.

The sprinkling of the streets under the contracts awarded some time ago by the Board of Public Improvements has not yet been commenced because the Council has failed to approve of the contracts. There has been a good deal of delay in the case as can be seen from the fact that the intention was to begin work under the new arrangement on the first of this month. The contracts may be approved to-night if the Council can find the time to take them up.

A VACATION SPOILT.

A St. Louis Young Man Injured While Blackberrying.

Mr. Arthur Godlove, son of Mr. G. W. Godlove, the commission merchant, has been spending his vacation at the residence of his grandfather, Mr. E. P. Ellis of Ashland, Boone County. A few days ago the young man went out in the fields to pick blackberries and met with a terrible accident. In stepping backwards he stumbled and fell on a snag which entered his body to the depth of six inches and inflicted terrible injuries. Mr. Godlove was alone and he lay for two hours in the hot sun, suffering intense agony. His cries finally attracted help and he was carried to the house, where his wound was dressed. Strong hopes are entertained of the patient's recovery.

Women's Training School Excursion.

The ladies in charge of the Women's Training School excursion of next Saturday evening believe their arrangements to be about as perfect as it is possible to make them. A dainty supper will be bountifully served until all are supplied. The lemonade will be of a quality that will challenge competition. Excellent music is provided, and the last evening excursion for this summer of the Women's Training School will soon be a pleasant memory of the past for all who attend.

AMUSEMENTS.

Miss Maud Gregory Joins J. M. Hill's "Money Mad" Company—Gossip.

Another society young lady of St. Louis has announced herself a candidate for histrionic honors and will endeavor to substantiate her claim to them August 31, at the Grand Opera-house in "Money Mad," with the J. M. Hill company. The young lady is Miss Maud Gregory.

Miss Gregory is very well known in St. Louis society. She is a daughter of the late Frank Gregory, well known as a business man. Although frequently expressing a liking for the stage no one ever supposed that she would enter the theatrical profession.

Miss Maude Gregory.

Miss Gregory is only 18 and is of the brunette type of beauty. Her great dark eyes are the feature of her face.

She has long, dark brown hair, which admirably sets off her exquisite complexion. As a conversationalist she is gifted with a vivacious style and is very original in her remarks. She has a strong individuality and always has a circle of admirers of both sexes.

She graduated a year ago from St. Vincent's Seminary, at Grand and Lucas avenues, with high honor. She became a convert to the Catholic faith two years ago and is a faithful attendant to her religious duties. Mary Hogan Ludlum was her first teacher in elocution, but she took lessons last winter with Mr. John Norton. She was given letters to New York managers by friends in St. Louis and when she called on them received the greatest encouragement. Mr. J. M. Hill told her that she had a grand face, a grand form and a grand future. He gave her an engagement with the "Money Mad" Co. and she will take the part of Clara. She was also offered several positions with New York stock companies.

Her friends think that she has a genius for Shakspearian plays, and Mr. Hill is reputed to have said that the "classical" will eventually be her field. She will begin in light comedy this season.

She is reported to be engaged to a young St. Louis physician, who is said to be opposed to her going on the stage.

THE CAVE.

The Cave had a good audience to see last night's performance of "Dorothy." The rehearsals for the "Pirates of Penzance" are going on smoothly, and that opera will undoubtedly be very prettily presented Sunday night. New scenery is being prepared for the occasion, and the costumes will be very gorgeous.

The rehearsals for "Iolanthe" at Schnaider's Garden have been numerous with result of perfect harmony in difficult parts. To-night's performance will undoubtedly be a fine one and the scenery and costumes are unusually costly for summer opera. The last performance of "Princess Ida" was given last night before a large audience.

Miss Louise Eissing will make her first appearance at Schnaider's with the Spencer Opera Co. to-morrow evening. Miss Fatmah Diard will sing the part of Iolanthe and Miss Eissing the part of Phyllis, a companion part. After this week Miss Diard and Miss Eissing will alternate as prima donna. Miss Eissing says it was her sister, not herself, who used to sing in the chorus at the cave.

Jos. Schnaider left last evening for New Mexico.

The attaches of the different theaters will have a steamboat excursion, August 22, on the Grand Republic.

The Grand Opera-house opens August 31, with "Money Mad."

FOR THE GOOD SHEPHERD.

A Meeting to Make Preparations for a Bazaar and Entertainment.

A well-attended and enthusiastic meeting of the friends and patrons of the Good Shepherd, one of the worthiest and most active of the many noble charitable institutions of St. Louis, was held at the Convent of the Good Shepherd, corner Seventeenth and Pine, last evening. The object was to make preparations for a grand musical and literary entertainment, to be given at the Pickwick, Jefferson and Washington avenues, in aid of the new convent, to be erected on the Bamberger property on the Gravois road. Some time ago a meeting was held by the call of a number of prominent Catholics to consider the advisability of erecting a new home for unfortunate women, the present accommodations being too small and necessitating crowding to an uncomfortable degree. At this meeting Mr. Adolphus Busch, the well-known brewer, generously offered the Bamberger tract which is an ideal location for the purpose intended. The offer was gladly accepted and the sisters immediately began to secure subscriptions and give entertainments to raise the necessary amount for a suitable building. They were in a measure successful, but it was a painfully slow and tedious method. Mr. Busch, however, again came to the front by magnanimously offering $75,000 as a start to the work. Encouraged by such material assistance the Sisters redoubled their efforts, and they are now in a fair way to raise the required sum to build. The meeting of last evening was to discuss future plans of work and more particularly to arrange for the entertainment alluded to above. Mr. Richard Ennis was made chairman and in taking his seat delivered an earnest appeal showing the high motives of the workers. Mr. Freeland R. Dunn was made secretary, and a motion passed to have circulars showing the mission of the society distributed among all classes, irrespective of creed.

The entertainment will doubtless be a grand success. The best musical and dramatic talent of the city have offered their assistance, and there will also be a fancy bazaar, which the ladies interested propose to make of unusual attractiveness, and which will be graced by the presence of St. Louis society's most charming young ladies.

NOT BROKEN OFF.

The Negotiations Between Jay Gould and the Atchison Owners.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Not much has been heard lately of the negotiations which it is known were under way a couple of months ago between the Missouri Pacific and Atchison roads, looking to a practical consolidation of their Southwestern interests. It has, in fact, says the Times this morning, been stated in Wall street, with more or less circumstantial evidence to support the report, that the negotiations between the Atchison people and Mr. Gould were at an end, and that Mr. Gould was in a bad humor and intent on keeping up the war which so hurt the income of both roads last year. It is possible, however, that it will not be very long before it is discovered that these rumors are far from the truth. Mr. Gould is still in conference with the financial magnates controlling the Atchison property, and it is stated, upon what is very close to official authority, that very material progress has been made toward harmonizing the conflicting interests that have hitherto kept the roads apart. It is intimated that the arrangement in prospect is to be a cast iron traffic agreement by which territory is to be divided, traffic allotted and rates put up and kept up. There are people of consequence who declare that the Atchison's ambition to gain control of the Missouri Pacific and its allied property has not been by any means abandoned.

LITTLE CHARLIE ELLIS.

TWICE ABANDONED IN A GREAT CITY BY HIS PARENTS.

Eventful History of a 6-Year-Old Boy—A Step-Mother's Neglect—Given to a Colored Washerwoman—Taken in Charge by the Police—He at Last Finds a Good Home.

Charlie Ellis' story, as printed in the POST-DISPATCH yesterday, with additions is being discussed to-day by a very large circle of ladies and gentlemen who have come in contact with the little fellow, his father and step-mother, during their brief stay in St. Louis. Harvey Ellis, the boy's father is now in St. Joseph, Mo., where he is in the employ of Eckel & Mann, architects. The firm was successful in the St. Louis City Hall competition, and in May last Mr. Ellis came with Mr. Mann to St. Louis to work in an office opened here. Mrs. Ellis and the boy Charlie accompanied them. They boarded at the St. James Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis quarreled, the woman returned to St. Joseph, and the man went on a spree. The boy, who is scarcely 6 years old, was left in the hotel without proper care until Mr. Mann interested himself in procuring a home for him. No institution could be found by Mr. Mann that would take the boy unless the parents would release their claim on him, and so it happened that the boy was placed temporarily

IN THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.

He stayed there but a few days and Mrs. Ellis sent for him, and he was taken to St. Joseph and a few days later Mrs. Ellis came to St. Louis with the boy. She rented the third floor, two rooms, at 1612 Lucas place, and took her meals at 1610 Lucas place.

Two weeks later she placed the child with a colored woman, Mrs. Josie Bass, who lives over a stable in the rear of the Missouri Historical Society quarters at Sixteenth and Lucas place. The stable is known as 309 North Sixteenth street. The following week Mrs. Ellis gave the child to Mrs. Bass, saying she never wished to see him again.

During the time Mrs. Ellis lived at 1612 Lucas place with the child, inmates of the house, and servants said her treatment of the child was unkind. The Woman's Humane Society was informed and inquiries were made by an agent of the society and also by a policeman but as the charges were of a vague character nothing was done. But when he was given to the colored woman a police investigation was started that may result in great good to the child. He was given up by the colored woman to Mrs. Harris, matron at the Four Courts, and she at the direction of Mayor Noonan found a home for the little fellow.

During the police inquiry Mrs. Ellis, who now resides at 3010 Olive street, was located and interviewed by Sergt. Shoemaker. She said the child was not her own but had been adopted by herself and husband in Indianapolis. She admitted having given him to the colored woman, but would give no explanation of instructions she had given the woman—not to let the boy leave the house, or stand at the windows, and not to let him be seen by white people.

The police endeavored to talk to Mr. Ellis concerning the boy, but he was intoxicated when found, and when sober returned to St. Joseph before he could be seen. Until he can be found in his right mind the final disposition of the child will be delayed, but if he consents an excellent home will be given Charlie by his present guardians.

Mr. Mann, speaking of the case this morning, said: "Mr. Ellis is, I believe, the finest draughtsman in the country. He is known to every architect in the United States by reputation. But he drinks too much sometimes. He is now in St. Joseph, sober I understand, and I very much regret the publicity this case has brought him into, for it is certain to set him off again. He is very fond of his boy and will, I believe, offer no objection to his adoption by the people who now have him because Charlie would have a good home and will be well cared for. I suppose Ellis and his wife have separated. I don't know anything about their domestic affairs and don't want to know. I saw him in St. Joseph Sunday. He said she could live here and he there and that he would send her money. I have been compelled to take an interest in the boy. He was with no one to care for him when we first came down and I had to find a place where he could be cared for. Then Mrs. Ellis wanted him and I had him sent to her. The next I heard of him the police told me he was running about the streets. I told them if they could find some one to take the child and adopt him it would be a blessing. Ellis himself wrote to his brother, who is a prominent man in Rochester, N. Y., asking him if he wouldn't take Charlie. I don't know what reply he got. The boy is a bright little fellow, and I think anyone who wanted to adopt a boy would be glad to get him."

MRS. JOSIE BASS,

the colored woman to whom the boy had been given, was found at the house of one of her patrons washing. She readily told the story of Charlie Ellis.

"I was washing at the house where Mrs. Ellis roomed," she said, "and got to know her through doing her washing. She had the two rooms on the third floor, and during the two weeks she was there before I took Charlie to board he was only taken in next door to meals two or three times. He stayed in those rooms with her greyhound, Fay, all the time. The folks in the house said she didn't give him enough to eat, and an agent of the Humane Society came there. I don't know whether he saw the child or not but nothing was done. One day she said to me, 'I wish I could get some one to take Charlie to board.' I told her there was a German woman living near who might take him. She said she did not want a white person to have him. I said I would take him, and she took me up right away. She paid me $2 for the first week's board and told me not to let any white person see him, not to let him out of the house and to keep him away from the windows. Two days after that she gave me a bundle of clothes and told me I might have Charlie. She never wanted to see him again, she said.

SLEPT WITH A DOG.

"Charlie is a pretty boy and just as bright as he can be. He's got a good home now and I'm glad of it. When he first came to me he was so hungry he would eat everything that was left where he could get his hands on it, and he walked as though he was crippled. His legs were a little bent all the time, and there were blue marks back of the knees; he had been sitting on a chair in those rooms up-stair so much. A lady who took an interest in Charlie took him to Dr. Reid. He said the boy needed plenty of good food and exercise, and gave him some medicine for cramps. He had cramps in his legs at night until he had been running around nearly a week. I didn't keep him shut up. I wasn't at home all day. He ran errands for a white woman who lives in our yard, and played with her children. Mrs. Ellis raised a row when she heard of it, but I wouldn't keep him shut up. The first night he was with me he cried because I would not let him sleep with my dog. He said he always slept with Fay. That dog had been his only friend when he was up there in those rooms, and the dog got most of the little that was taken up there for him to eat.

"George Seaman, who came from St. Joseph with Mr. Ellis and who roomed there at 1012 came to my place to see Charlie after I had told the police that I was going away and I couldn't keep Charlie. He wanted to take Charlie away, but I wouldn't let him, for the policeman had told me to keep the boy and let no one have him. I gave him to Mrs. Harris down at the Four Courts and she got him a home."

MRS. HARRIS,

Matron at the Four Courts, is a great admirer of the little fellow. "He has very fortunately found an excellent home," she said. "A gentleman and his wife who have long wanted to adopt a child, having none of their own, have him and want to keep him. They are well off and will make him their heir if his father consents to the adoption. Mr. Mann, the employer of Charlie's father, said he thought there would be no trouble on that score. I hope there will be none."

Robbed by His Room-Mate.

This morning a warrant was issued at the Four Courts charging Thomas Kiely with grand larceny. The prosecuting witness in the action is one Patrick Harrigan, a laborer. Harrigan lives on Seventh street, near Chouteau avenue. By three years of toil he managed to save $460, which he has kept in the trunk in his room. He was on a tear last week and invited Kiely, a hod-carrier, with whom he had worked, to go to his room. This was on Saturday night. Sunday morning Harrigan awoke to find Kiely gone. The trunk had been opened and every cent of the $460 taken. The police were informed of the theft, and have been on the watch for Kelly ever since. A Third District officer arrested him last night.

THE NEGRO EXODUS TO MEXICO.

Doubt Cast on the Practicability of Milton Turner's Colonization Scheme.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A dispatch from St. Louis was printed yesterday to the effect that a person named J. Milton Turner had started for this city to arrange the details of his plan for colonizing negroes in Mexico. He stated that the plan was being promoted by a firm of coffee dealers in this city which has a capital of about $5,000,000, and that the purpose was to put the negroes to raising coffee and sugar

"That's all buncombe," said a prominent coffee merchant, yesterday. "I have never heard of the scheme before and I have never heard of Milton Turner. Neither has any other member of the coffee trade here as far as I can ascertain. I don't know of any firm of coffee dealers which has a capital of $5,000,000. I don't believe there is anything in it."

This gentleman added that there were undoubtedly great possibilities for coffee production in Mexico, but he did not believe that any action toward developing the field would be taken for some time.

THE ATTEMPT MAY BE MADE.

Inquiries made this morning by a POST-DISPATCH reporter disclosed the fact that Mr. Turner is out of town, but among his friends the opinion seemed to prevail that he was engaged in business connected with the conversion of the Kirkwood Seminary into a manual training school for colored boys. Mr. Bridgewater, who was associated with Mr. Turner in the Kirkwood deal and who works largely with Mr. Turner in his various undertakings, while not denying the existence of a scheme such as suggested, said he thought the preliminaries were not in a very developed condition or he would have known something definite about it. He thought the idea a good one and saw no reason why it should not be carried out, provided of course the necessary capital were forthcoming.

BECAUSE HE SOLD LIQUOR.

Mrs. Cairns' Entertainment of Henry Bridgewater Brings Objections.

The rumor comes from Kirkwood that there is trouble between Mrs. Anna Sneed Cairns and the W. C. T. U. The cause ascribed is a dinner at the Kirkwood Seminary which was given when the sale of the property was consummated. The report says that the dinner was given by Mrs. Cairns and among those who sat at the table was Henry Bridgewater, the negro saloon-keeper who contributed so largely to the Manual Training School for Negroes. Now it is said that many of the ladies of the W. C. T. U. are very much put out because Mrs. Cairns entertained a negro saloon-keeper. They did not see why a member of the W. C. T. U. should have shown any such consideration for a liquor dealer simply because she had sold him a house and lot, and it was said that the W. C. T. U. had reprimanded Mrs. Cairns and that in response to the reprimand she had withdrawn from both the Central and District W. C. T. U. of which she was a member. Mrs. F. H. Ingalls was asked this morning if there was any truth in the report and she said: "Some of the members may have been talking about the matter, but if they have I have not heard it. Central has not had a session since Mrs. Cairns gave that dinner, so of course it could not have taken any official notice of it. The District W. C. T. U. did have a session and Mrs. Cairns was present for a short while, but the matter was not brought up there. No, there has been no official action and Mrs. Cairns has not withdrawn from the union."

WATER TOWER BURGLARS.

Several Houses on East Grand Avenue Entered Last Night.

Water Tower Hill, along East Grand avenue, between Broadway and Florissant avenue, was visited by burglars this morning, but they did not get much for their trouble. The first residence called on was that of Mr. Charles James, the live-stock commission merchant, at No. 1435 East Grand avenue. The burglars entered the basement and carried off a quantity of underclothing, table-cloths and sheeting. The burglars made this call just at daybreak, as the servant girl caught sight of one of the visitors leaving the house just as she got up. The next call was at the house of Mr. Wm. C. Kennedy, No. 1442 East Grand avenue. Here also the housebreakers secured some underclothing and towels. The burglars made an effort to effect an entrance into the residence of Mr. Thomas Smith, the hardware merchant on Blair and Obear avenue, but were scared off before they succeeded. A number of other places in the same neighborhood were called on, but no great booty was secured. Hitherto, for a long time, the Water Tower Hill district has been left undisturbed by burglars and the calls last night were in the nature of a surprise. Police protection on the "hill" is very insufficient, one officer having to look after the safety of between 2,000 to 4,000 residents.

THE WOODWORKERS' CONVENTION.

Conclusion of Business—Election of Officers—Entertaining the Delegates.

The Machine Woodworkers' International Union of America met again this morning in convention. The principal business was the election of officers. John Green of St. Louis was elected President; Frank Heacock of Omaha, First Vice-President; M. S. Peyton of Chicago, Second Vice-President, and Thomas T. Kidd of Denver, General Secretary.

It was resolved to hold the convention next year at Chicago on the third Monday in August. A resolution was adopted deprecating strikes except as extreme measures and strongly advocating arbitration as the best method of settling disputes.

The convention then adjourned, and the local union took the visiting delegates out to Forest and Tower Grove Parks in carriages and generally gave them good entertainment. To-morrow evening there will be a reception at the hall on Broadway and Biddle street. A very pleasing programme has been prepared and there will be good music and singing.

The union, which is in a very flourishing condition, embraces all machinery workers in wood, such as sash, door and furniture makers, saw-mill men and carriage machine hands, but it does not take in bench-workers.

TROUBLE OVER A TREPHINE.

The City Hospital Secures a Needed Instrument After a Long Delay.

The City Hospital has recently received a lot of surgical instruments for which requisition was made nearly three months ago, and the apparently unnecessary delay in supplying them has caused much inconvenience to the physicians of the institution and suffering to its patients. The instruments asked for were all necessary ones, principal among them being a trephine, a modern humane instrument for removing a portion of the skull in case of injuries of the head. An old one, which had been used in the hospital for years, was broken and Supt. Dalton asked for a new one and for other instruments equally necessary. Letters were written about them but they were not supplied and meanwhile the only means the physicians had for removing a section of a man's skull when the operation was necessary was by the old time method of using a chisel and mallet. Many a man's life depends upon the immediate presence of a surgeon equipped with proper instruments, and the lack of instruments means often a sacrifice of human life, yet it has only been within the last few days that the hospital has had the instruments, in spite of frequent demands.

MR. JOHN M. WHITE and MR. W. E. ELLSWORTH have connected themselves with the advertising department of the POST-DISPATCH with the special object of writing up the business interests of St. Louis.

Fire at Rosedale.

A one-story frame cottage at Rosedale Station on the Wabash road, owned and occupied by T. Burgler and his brother, caught fire about 5 o'clock yesterday evening, and owing to the scarcity of water, was entirely consumed. The loss is about $600, with but $100 of insurance.

MRS. SPRINGER'S STOR

SHE DISCUSSES THE TROUBLE IN THE "WE PINES" FLATS.

The Residents Spread Their Objections t Her Colored Man in the Neighborhood, But Said Nothing to Her—"Benjamin" Goes to the Country for the Benefit o His Health—A Temporary Truce.

The "race trouble," which has agitated the minds of the good people of "West Pines" for the past four or five days, and of which a full account appeared in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH, is exciting not a little comment among West End residents. The story as given yesterday told only one side of the question, however, that of the complainants. Mrs. Springer, the other party most interested, having had no opportunity to give her version of the condition of affairs, a reporter called upon her this morning with a view of learning how she regarded the criticisms which have been expressed so freely by the exclusive residents of the "West Pines."

WHAT MRS. SPRINGER SAYS.

"There is certainly a misapprehension somewhere," said Mrs. Springer. "I knew absolutely nothing of the existence of any discord in this flat, or of the fact that there had been such serious objection to my quartering my servant as I do, until a friend read me your account of last evening. If there had been any objection the proper thing to have done would have been for the ladies to have come to me and make known any grievance which they might hold. I knew nothing of the incident of the lady on the steps remarking when my man came up through the front door: 'There is a back door.' I am not accustomed to sitting on the steps of a flat. Here in my room is the proper place for me—a woman alone as I am—and here I stay. As to my feeding my colored man on cream, I think that neither the ladies nor anyone else will attempt to dictate to me in what I consider as eminently my own concern. The colored man has bee in my employ for more than ten yea He is respectable and respec I do not know how he regards the wh affair, as I have not seen him since the publ cation of yesterday's article, and he had intimation of the existence of any prejudi before. He has been sick for several days past and is now sojourning in the country for his health. There has been no cyclone, no whirlwind, no 'fury' as you put it, I believe. If words and assurances and acts go for aught, there is now a perfectly harmonious feeling in this house. I have had assurances from the various ladies of their kindly feeling and good will toward me tendered me on two different occasions since yesterday. It is to me unaccountable how the various incidents were ever known to any outside the house, and I attribute the whole story to one of the house servants, as I am loth to believe after the assurances given me by the ladies, two of whom were friends of mine before I came here, that they would be instrumental in dragging my private affairs before the public. There may have been, and probably was, a casual remark let drop by some one, just as I myself or any one unthinkingly says things, supposing that no particular import of weight will be given them, about my man going in and out the front steps and compelling the ladies to arise or about his being fed on cream. But, as I said, the people seem kindly disposed toward me, and besides, it's nobody's business how I feed him, and I think a look at the back stairs would convince you that it would be an imposition to make anybody, black or white, walk up them.

"I regret exceedingly the whole affair. I have always tried to do my faithful duty in this life. My name and my character are known; they stand for themselves and a disposition on the part of any one to make me appear as a disturber of the peace and comfort of any one I feel assured would do me no harm. But the work in which I am engaged—reform—is one peculiarly liable to indiscriminate attacks and the notoriety attendant upon the airing of how I feed my servant and the comments of neighbors on my personal affairs and doings are a matter of much regret in that there is a possibility of their injuring the work in which I am absorbed and which is more to me than the pretty details of 'front stairs, cream' and gossip."

THE TALK OF THE WEST END.

Notwithstanding Mrs. Springer's frequent assertions that a halo of peace and amity surrounds the "West Pines," it has been a well-known fact throughout the neighborhood since the advent of the sable-hued Benjamin, who goes to the country for his health and sips nothing weaker than cream and trots up and down the front stairs even if he does make white folks move to do it, that there has been a few energetic protests entered, and much indignation displayed by the other residents of the flats. It has been the subject of conversation not only on the front steps of "West Pines," but numerous other housholds in the West End. The high-toned colored man, who has taken rooms at "West Pines," has been the subject of discussion even beyond the precincts of that exclusive quarter.

The probabilities are that to insure the preservation of the state of ideal comfort and harmony which has hitherto characterized that very charming abode, Benjamin must either climb to his quarters by means of the imposing back stairs or else, for the benefit of his health, indefinitely prolong his present sojourn in the country.

YOUTHFUL ADVENTURERS.

Two Brooklyn Boys After Excitement in Texas Held for Their Parents.

Fred Schmidt and Joseph Sussek of Brooklyn, N. Y., took Horace Greeley's advice to go West and a week ago set out for the Eldorado of their dreams. The close of this week would have found them on the plains of Texas had not Sergt. Mundinger interfered. Instead the youthful adventurers now occupy cells in the holdover at the Four Courts.

About 8:30 o'clock this morning Sergt. Mundinger saw Schmidt and Sussek get off an Eastern train at the Union Depot. Each of the lads carried a small cat-rifle and the nonchalant manner in which they swung the weapons over their shoulders and marched about the platform attracted the attention of every one in the vicinity. Probably they thought they were far enough west to begin to show their hands. But they were still inside the civilization limits. They learned as much when the stalwart blue-coat took them in tow and ten minutes later they were in the office of Capt. Young at the Four Courts. There they were searched. In addition to the cat rifles which they carried in their hands, each of the boys had a loaded 22-caliber pistol in his hip pocket. Sussek also had a dagger, which he had made by whetting down a strong case knife, while Schmidt's pockets disclosed $5.50 in small change. Tickets to Henrietta, Tex., were found in their hats.

The boys admitted that they had run away from their homes in Brooklyn, N. Y. Sussek said his father had driven him out on the streets, while Schmidt confessed that he had taken $95 from his brother's purse to defray traveling expenses. Both gave their ages as 16 years. They will be held by the authorities pending the action of the Brooklyn officials, who have been wired to notify the parents of the prisoners of their detention at this point.

Female Pugilists.

Last night Mattie Denver, who recently lived at 1218 Pine street, went to the room of a young woman named Julia Alfred and proceeded to settle an old grudge by giving the fair Julia a black eye and otherwise marring her personal appearance. She then took a cab, and was just on the point of starting for a little trip on the cars when Constable Hyde detained her by means of a warrant which the infuriated Julia had sworn out before Justice Spaulding. The case was set for this morning and Mattie expected to pay her fine and be clear, but a discharged servant to whom she owed $14.90 for wages secured a writ of attachment on her trunk. The case will be tried next week.

Saddle Makers' Mass Meeting.

There will be a mass meeting of saddle makers at No. 604 Market street, to-morrow evening. All the saddle makers in the city are requested to be present.

SIGHS FOR THE SEASHORE

SOCIETY PEOPLE WHO REMAINED AT HOME NOW REGRETTING IT.

Many Making Preparations for a Late Departure—What Those Who Are Away Are Doing to Enjoy Themselves—Those Who Have Returned—General Gossip Gathered in Social Circles.

WHAT a week this has been to be sure! And with far less strength to bear it than earlier in the season, everybody is wilted and demoralized, and those who have declared over and over again that people were fools who closed up their own spacious and delightful homes for the cramped uncomfortable quarters of the summer resorts, have donned cap and bells themselves and are away.

Who can blame them? Our homes may be ever so roomy, but, alas, we can't hold down the mercury or command the breezes; and when we reads of blankets and fires at the lakes and the seashore, while sizzling and fanning on one's own doorstep, and of cheap travel in every direction, it seems like flying in the face of Providence to stay at home. Nor need one be deterred for want of the summer outfit. There are plenty of delightful places at both seaside and lakes where grande toilettes are not en regle; where nice woolen gowns, such as every one has, are donned in the early morning and worn till dewy eve. Of course in these days of physical culture, when athletic exercises, boating, tennis, bowling, etc., are fashionable fads, every girl has her outing dresses, tennis and boating suits, pretty and becoming; put them in your trunk by all means, and you are ready for all day. If you have not one it is so simple, it can be quickly made of flannel and a leather belt and cute little cap, will make it as natty—well—as a man's. What more can you want? If you have not a bathing suit the opportunity of your life is before you. Let it be black by all means, China silk, or brilliante, full trousers banded just below the knee over long black stockings; a full plaited or shirred skirt, fastened beneath a broad belt to a blouse waist, just a little rounded at the throat with little puffs at the shoulders as excuses for sleeves; then long black silk gloves extending above the elbow. Isn't that chic? Then wear with it a bright blue or red bandana silk handkerchief, as suits your style best, and there you are a perfect picture—before you go in. You can judge best whether you can risk the coming out. These gowns, with the pretty muslins and China silks and challies which you already have by you, will be all that you need; so there is no need for dallying. Pack your trunks and be off.

CATTLEMEN ANXIOUS.

THE REFUSAL TO MODIFY THE ORDER OF EXPULSION CAUSING DISSATISFACTION.

Fears Entertained That the Market Will Be Flooded and Prices Reduced—Bad Condition of Indian Territory Cattle—A Plan That May Make Missouri the Headquarters for Western Stock.

"THE refusal of the President to extend the time for the removal of cattle from the Cherokee strip," said A. L. Ramsay of Caddo, I. T., who is at the Laclede, "has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction and disappointment, and will unquestionably lead to very serious losses, much more severe than appeared likely some months ago. The drouth in the Cherokee strip has been terrible, the grass is burned up, and the condition of the cattle has suffered correspondingly. We will not have nearly as many cattle in condition for market as we would have had under ordinary circumstances, and by October 1, the date set for vacating the ranges, the state of affairs may be much worse if we do not have plenty of rain.

SEVERE LOSSES CERTAIN.

"An enforcement of the order in a strict manner would under the most favorable conditions have been most disastrous; as matters are at present it would be absolutely ruinous were we to attempt to sell our cattle. I have just returned from Washington, where I in vain tried to get an extension of the time time until December 1 at least. There seems to be a feeling that we ought to have gotten out before, and no inclination to help us out of our difficulty. I have received letters from all parts of the cattle district, and learn that everything is being done to prevent glutting the market and to make arrangements for keeping the poorest and thinnest of the cattle elsewhere until they are fit for sale. In this we are sure of the co-operation of all cattle raisers, as they are almost as deeply interested as we are in preventing the market from being flooded. Were it not for the spirit manifested by farmers from Western and Southern Missouri, I do not know what we should do. But in anticipation of a refusal to extend the time a committee of cattlemen made arrangements with Missouri farmers for wintering such cattle as it was deemed best not to send to market.

PLANS FOR RELIEF.

It was believed when the contracts were made that at least a part of the Indian Territory cattle would be allowed to winter in the strip, and arrangements were not made for such a clearance as must now take place. This morning I received telegrams stating that arrangements had been made for sending a much larger number of cattle to Missouri than had originally been contemplated, and also that the Texas and Kansas breeders would provide ranges for many more. This can only be done by selling off a large number of the cattle that are not in perfect condition, as the ranges are carrying almost as many cattle as they can feed, but the owners believe it to be to their interest to sell off fairly ripe stock, and replace them by our young and thin Indian Territory beef. We would not be obliged to call on our neighbors to handle so many head had the season been an ordinary one, but the scarcity of grass, arising from the drouth, has prevented much stock that we thought would sell well from maturing. The farmers who raise cattle as a by-product are coming to our aid in a most satisfactory manner, and I learn that they have promised to sell off all the cattle that are in anything like condition, and make room for our stock. By these means we can avoid placing any great quantity of light stock on the market, and can keep the price up to something like fair figures. Were it to go down the only gainers would be the beef combine.

BENEFITS TO MISSOURI.

"As a matter of fact, the farmers will benefit by the operation, as they can turn their corn into money more profitably by feeding it to our lank, bony steers, who will lay on flesh rapidly, than in any other way. Besides this, it will prove an entering wedge in business which promises to be of great benefit to this State. It has been found that if grass-fed cattle are put on corn during the winter previous to their sale, their weight, and therefore their value, will be very largely increased. Grass-feeding does almost as much for calves and yearlings, and corn is practically wasted on them. The plan of the ranchmen is to cease selling from the range as far as possible and to give their stock six months ripening on corn. To make room for this influx many of the farmers have expressed their intention of ceasing to feed stock and to confine themselves to ripening. The results of the sale that will be made next summer of the cattle driven out of the Territory to the Missouri farms will have much to do with the success of this plan. If the outcome is satisfactory Missouri will probably become the great cattle State of the country, and instead of a disaster the order driving the cattle out of the Cherokee strip will prove a blessing to the entire industry."

DR. BURTSELL'S CASE.

Prospects That the Priest Will Make His Peace With the Church.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The fact that Dr. Burtsell delivered his farewell address to his congregation of the Church of the Epiphany nearly two weeks ago, and yet has not been appointed to the Rondout mission, has created not a little comment in Catholic circles here and elsewhere. This fact is taken as significant that there is still a rupture between that eminent ecclesiast and the Church at Rome which will not be closed for several weeks yet, if at all. A gentleman who is reliably informed thus sums up the status of the case:

"Before Dr. Burtsell delivered his address he was undoubtedly in receipt of a letter from the Propaganda at Rome. In it he was instructed as to the various things he would be required to do in order to retain his standing in the fold. Special stress was laid on the public stand taken by Dr. Burtsell as legal adviser of Dr. McGlynn and the adverse expert testimony given by him in the McGuire Calvary Cemetery fight, in which he pitted himself against Mgr. Preston in interpreting the ecclesiastical law. Inasmuch, said the Propaganda, as this had all reached the public through the press, the Propaganda would only consent to condone his faults on his signifying his willingness to retract through the same channel. Should he conclude to do so he might signify his desires in a communication addressed to the Vatican. Meantime, he would give up the Epiphany and go on a vacation—a vacation by the way, which he is now enjoying at Lake Nohopac. Now it is pretty well understood that Dr. Burtsell has sent his reply to Rome, signifying just what he is willing to concede. The powers at Rome will probably decide to accept his offer, and after the terms are all settled, which will require three or four weeks, Dr. Burtsell will send a communication to all the city papers of a more or less apologetic nature. While these negotiations are proceeding Archbishop Corrigan will be compelled to appoint a successor to Father Prendergast at Rondout, because this important congregation cannot be left so long without a head. The present vacation of Dr. Burtsell is nothing more nor less than enforced retirement, for there is little doubt but he would have immediately accepted the Rondout mission had Archbishop Corrigan ordered him to do so. Seeing that discretion will serve him best, Dr. Burtsell will make his peace at Rome, and, this done, the Propaganda will probably say to Archbishop Corrigan: 'If you are satisfied now, as we are, why, condone his fault, and set him to work.' Archbishop Corrigan, who is a very strict disciplinarian, but withal a very just man, will then relent and give Dr. Burtsell some small church, near New York City."

When the above was submitted to Dr. Henry Carey, well known as the staunch supporter of Dr. McGlynn and Dr. Burtsell since the former's split in 1884, he remarked significantly: "Your information is no doubt correct as to one or two details. I think Dr. Burtsell will be sent to Rondout, and this station will be held open for him. I suppose I am as well informed as any one in this matter, and it's my opinion that the result will be nearly as above stated. I do not think Archbishop Corrigan is a hard man, but the man behind him, and who dictates his policy, would rule the church with a rod of iron."

ROW AT A CIRCUS.

Struck With a Club—A Shovel Tragedy—Missouri Matters.

LEXINGTON, Aug. 7.—A number of toughs, who had been excluded from Robinson's pavilion show now holding forth in this city for raising a disturbance, hid in ambush last evening and assaulted the circus party as they were going to their hotel. A little girl was struck on the head with a stone and severely injured. The police are looking for the toughs.

George Berry and Jim Sours, young men of this city, quarreled last evening, during which the former was struck over the head with a club, receiving a fracture of the skull. He will die. Sours made his escape.

ST. JOSEPH, Aug. 7.—During a quarrel at Agency Ford yesterday, Frank Bolden was struck over the head by a shovel in the hands of Joseph Crabtree, causing his death a few hours later. Crabtree made his escape. Both men were employed on the Santa Fe road.

KEYTESVILLE, Aug. 7.—Sam Johnson, colored, pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree, yesterday, and was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary. Last New Year's day Johnson killed Sam Strather, also colored, at a dance at Dalton.

WHAT'S THE GAME?

The Attitude of Administration Leaders to Ex-Congressman O'Neill.

They Oppose Him, but Deny It Is for O'Malley's Sake They Pursue Such a Course.

John B. O'Meara Explains Why Mayor Noonan's Friends Are Antagonizing the Leading Candidate in the Eighth District—Is There a Scheme on Foot to Sow Enough Discord in the District to Force the Nomination of a Dark Horse?—Queer Conduct of Congressional Committeemen Holding City Positions—City Central Committee Meeting Called—Political Matters.

Does the opposition to ex-Congressman O'Neill in the Eighth District Committee emanate from the City Hall?

This is a queary that has been heard quite frequently of late among Mr. O'Neill's friends, and to-day it was stated freely that such was the case, and that the administration would favor any candidate rather than the ex-representative. The reports of the administration's antipathy to O'Neill and the reasons back of it have been in circulation since the meeting of the Committee last Thursday evening, and this morning a number of politicians, watching the contest, expressed the opinion that they were well founded. This condition of affairs in the Eighth District Committee naturally created a stir and there was considerable talk indulged in by politicians to-day on this topic.

One of the causes that first led to the report that Mayor Noonan and the administration would antagonize O'Neill grew out of the active opposition of John B. O'Meara, the Mayor's trusted friend and principal lieutenant, who is earnest in his opposition to O'Neill and has told his friends that he proposed to keep up the fight until the nomination was made. He has, it is claimed, urged Tom Wand and others of O'Neill's friends in the committee to support O'Malley in preference to the ex-member. The close relationship existing between the Mayor and O'Meara give the intense opposition of the latter to O'Neill much significance among the politicians, and this is one of the reasons the question of the Mayor's standing has been so frequently asked. Another point made to support the story is that Private Secretary James Brennan is also an earnest and outspoken anti-O'Neill man. A prominent Democrat, who is a supporter of O'Neill's candidacy, said it would not be long before it would develop that Brennan was a big factor in the opposition that exists in the committee.

EMPLOYED UNDER THE ADMINISTRATION.

Three of the six members opposed to O'Neill are employed in the City Hall under the administration. They are Michael Brady, J. B. Dutton and Ahearn. The latter represents the two precincts of the Twenty-second Ward that lie in the Eighth District.

Dutton is a sprinkling inspector, and owes his appointment to the administration. O'Neill's friends claim that he was formerly a friend of the ex-Congressman, and that his opposition is of recent origin.

Brady is in the Water Department and Ahearn is a builder who does most of the repair work about the public buildings. Politicians who claim to know have stated that these committeemen only echo the feeling of the administration heads when they oppose O'Neill in the committee.

THE MEANING OF THE OPPOSITION.

There are two explanations given for the administration's antipathy to O'Neill. One is that the Mayor intends to run for Congress himself two years hence and wants to have O'Neill out of his way, so there will be no difficulty getting the nomination. The politicians who lean to this view reason that should O'Neill succeed this time he would be hard to beat two years hence, and would therefore be an almost insurmountable barrier between the Mayor and his supposed ambition.

The other explanation grows out of the campaign which resulted in the election of Mayor Noonan. O'Neill, it is claimed, did not give his Honor all the assistance he could have furnished and that the administration now proposes to settle up old scores.

THE MAYOR'S PROMISE.

Mr. O'Neill was seen and asked what he thought of the report. He said: "Mayor Noonan assured me some time ago that he would keep out of the fight. I am surprised, though, to hear that Secretary Brennan has seen fit to oppose me. Then there are a few members of the committee opposed to me, who hold City Hall positions. There may be a few in the administration against me, but I am assured by friends that the opposition will not do much harm. I must say that the change of heart of a few members of that committee who hold city positions is quite recent and unaccountable."

O'MEARA'S ADMISSION.

John B. O'Meara said: "The report that the administration is opposing O'Neill to pave the way for Mayor Noonan to run for Congress is absurd. The Mayor has no ambition whatever in that direction. This I know to be a fact. Four years ago he could have had the nomination if he wanted it, but he declined and left it in O'Neill's possession. I am opposed to Mr. O'Neill's nomination and so are other friends of the Mayor. We are opposed to him because of his treachery to the Mayor in the spring campaign. It was expected that he would repay some of the favors extended him by assisting in the Mayor's canvass, but he failed to do it. Then again I don't think that he has the necessary strength to carry the district. I am not for O'Malley either, but would take him any time in preference to O'Neill. You can state it as a fact that those of Mayor Noonan's friends who are opposing John J. O'Neill have reason to do it, and they may at the same time teach him a lesson in gratitude. The Mayor does not want to go to Congress, and I don't believe that he is turning his hand either way in the Congressional fight."

MARTIN'S GAME.

John I. Martin, though not a declared candidate for the Eighth District nomination, is, it is understood, making a still hunt for the prize. His friends are beginning to say that he ought to be nominated in the interest of harmony. They reason that there will be more or less disaffection if either O'Neill or O'Malley captures the nomination. The fact that Mr. Martin has been getting around, speaking what he would do if he was in the race, is taken as a pretty sure indication that he will yet be in it. His candidacy is said to have the support of O'Neill's opponents, who, while not for O'Malley, are taking his part to such an extent as to create discord and thus furnish an opening for Martin.

THE COMMITTEE MEETING TO-NIGHT.

To-night the committee will meet at the Hendricks Club room and decide the squabble over the proposed $3,000 assessment of the candidates. The committee will also elect a successor to Committeeman Pattison, who has resigned, and arrange for the primary election and convention. O'Neill will, it is understood, get a friend in the committee to fill the vacancy, and the chances are that either Kilcullen or Sullivan will get it. The latter seems to be preferred by O'Neill's friends in the committee.

In the Interest of Lubke.

A newly born organization has made its appearance in the Eighth Ward and is known as the Eighth Ward Democratic Club. Several meetings have already been held and over 150 members taken in. The officers elected to act during the temporary organization are Martin McInerney, President; Jerry Sheehan, Vice-President; William Andersen, treasurer and Michael Burke, secretary. It is claimed there are 1,000 Democratic votes in this ward and it is the intention of the rulers of the club to have half that many voters in the club before many weeks. Plans of campaign have already been made in some directions, it having been decided at the last meeting to push McGrath, a young Democrat, to the front as a candidate for the House of Delegates. Mr. McGrath is holding a very responsible position with Rosenheim, Levis & Co. The strength of this club, however, will show to best advantage in the race for the Congressional Democratic nomination in the Eighth Congressional District, of which the Eighth Ward forms a very prominent part. Ex-Congressman O'Neill is electioneering in the ward and is talked of for the nomination, and a few occasional remarks are made about ex-Councilman O'Malley for the place, but the Eighth Ward Democratic Club does not seem to be in love with either, and have brought out a new candidate in the person of ex-Judge George Lubke, who occupied the bench in Court-room No. 1 for four years. In bringing this candidate forward the arguments used are that an abler man could not be found, that there are 10,000 German votes in the Eighth Congressional District he might obtain and the fight between the present candidates for nomination has became so bitter as to disgust a large class of voters who would gladly leave either to vote for a new man. The club will hold a meeting again next Tuesday evening in Wolff's Hall, Eighth and Biddle streets, when it is expected it will almost double its membership and test the popularity of the candidates. At this meeting an effort will also be made to organize the ward and secure the name of every Democratic voter. For this purpose committees of four for every precinct in the ward have been appointed, and they will make a canvass from house to house, securing the names of voters, register those who have not voted yet and have transfers made, so that others who have moved in can vote.

Colored Politicians Dissatisfied.

A large crowd of dissatisfied colored politicians met at 1100 Morgan street last evening and spent several hours discussing Internal Revenue Collector Chas. F. Wenneker. C. A. Tyler presided and J. H. Jones served as Secretary. P. H. Murray opened the discussion by making the claim that Wenneker had virtually ignored the colored people in the selection of his deputies. He wanted it understood that the Republican party in St. Louis would be nowhere without the assistance of the negro. He presented a memorial addressed to Secretary of the Treasury Windom asking that Mr. Wenneker be called upon to explain his antipathy to the negro Republicans. He also spoke in favor of a memorial indorsing the Federal elections bill. Both memorials were adopted.

George W. Bryant, one of the colored bosses who holds an easy position in Col. Churchill's office, defended the Federal officials, and cautioned the meeting against doing anything hastily. He said Mr. Wenneker would give the colored people a few appointments in the near future.

Byant's remarks were not received with much favor, as a majority of those present seemed to feel that Collector Wenneker would do nothing for them.

Democratic City Committee.

Chairman Carlisle of the City Central Committee will call that body together early next week to discuss the time for the primary election and convention. Most of the committeemen favor holding the convention the last week in September. This would allow more than a week for campaign work. Under the Australian law the names of the nominees will have to be recorded twenty days before the election. It is safe to say that the Democratic ticket will be out by the last of next month.

Will Attend the Mills Demonstration.

At 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon a special train will leave Union Depot for St. Charles with over three hundred Democrats on board, marshaled by Chairman James Carlisle of the City Committee. They will attend the Mills demonstration and hear the great tariff leader's address. The train will leave St. Charles at 5 o'clock and reach the depot at 6. Mr. Mills will commence his speech at 2:30 o'clock and will finish before the time set for the departure of the St. Louis delegation.

ALTON, ILL.

Killed by a Train—F. M. B. A. Picnic—Items of Interest.

Charles Masterson, apparently about 30 years of age, was killed by a passenger train on the Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad last evening in the lower part of this city. The unfortunate man was walking along the track, and being warned by the approaching train the engineer saw him step to one side, and supposed he had left the track until the train struck him. His skull was fractured, and he died in thirty minutes. The remains were taken to police headquarters, and Squire Brandeweide held the inquest in the absence of the Coroner. All that could be learned about the man was that he had been in the employ of the Chicago & Alton Railroad, and had relatives in Ohio.

Wm. Johnson, a Swede, was found overcome by the heat near the saw-mill yesterday, and is now considered dangerously ill.

Wm. McIntosch and Miss Lena Henrichs of this city were licensed to marry yesterday by Deputy County Clerk Rudershausen.

Rev. Dr. Abbott, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has gone off to Massachusetts on his vacation.

The F. M. B. A. picnic at Fosterburg yesterday and last night was one of the largest gatherings of the kind ever witnessed in Madison County.

The Suicide of Mrs. Calhoun—Sequel to a Scandal—Texas Topics.

BEAUMONT, Tex., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Dr. B. F. Calhoun, wife of Dr. Calhoun, who shot City Alderman McFadden, last Sunday, for making improper proposals to Mrs. Calhoun, shot herself through the heart yesterday. She has been in feeble health for some time, and when her husband shot McFadden, it was a great shock to her. She feared her husband would be killed if McFadden did not die and would be branded as a murderer if he did die. At 7 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Calhoun heard a shot and rushing into his wife's room found her dying. McFadden denies ever having written to Mrs. Calhoun, and says the letter is a forgery.

Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 5.—The weather is excellent and the track in first-class condition. The following races were run to-day:

First race, six furlongs—Worth won, with Stryke second and Princess Limo third. Time, 1:15½.

Second race, one mile—Reclare won, with Rancocas second and Lady Pulsifer third. Time, 1:40.

Third race, the Merchants' Stakes, one mile and five furlongs—Los Angeles won, Rhono second and Lavinia Belle third. Time, 2:50.

Fourth race, mile and a furlong—Wilfred won, with Hamlet second and Clio third. Time, 1:52½.

Fifth race, one mile—Carrie G. won; Marie K. was second and Whitenose third. Time, 1:43¼.

The Tragedy in a Disorderly House.

This morning Coroner Frank concluded the inquest in the case of Fritz Kohloffel by the taking of the statement of Richard A. Haack, the stepson of the deceased. Kohloffel, on last Monday evening, shot his divorced wife, Christina Burkhardt, and her son, the boy Haack, and then put a ball into his own brain. The tragedy took place in the rooms of the woman, 724 Clark avenue, one of the most disreputable dives in the city. The woman was shot through the neck and may yet die. Haack has a ball in his head, but will recover. A verdict of suicide was returned.

Suit Against Bank-Wrecker Harper.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 7.—Suit was brought yesterday against the assignee of E. L. Harper, the bank wrecker, by the Western National Bank of New York, for recovery on its claim of $200,000. The bank holds four $50,000 notes executed by Gahr and indorsed by Harper. Each note was secured by collateral in the form of 400 shares of Fidelity stock.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

LODGE'S ELECTION BILL TAKEN UP BY THE SENATE COMMITTEE.

No Material Changes Made in the Bill—The Great Rush of Pension Applications Under the New Law—Nominations by the President—The Senate and the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—Under the resolution of the Senate authorizing sittings during the sessions of the Senate, the Committee on Privileges and Elections began a special meeting at noon to-day to consider the election bill. There was a full attendance of the members. The bill is still held in conference, but one of the minority says that save in the matter of change of expression, chiefly in the way of reducing its length, the bill as it passed the house is the one proposed by the majority. The principle of the bill and its practical workings are not disturbed, he says.

The committee voted by a strict party division to report the bill to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—Secretary Noble said to-day that there were 380,000 applications for pensions under the new bill, with no corresponding increase of clerks to help things out.

Consul-General Wallace was handsomely entertained at a public reception in Massillon, O., yesterday. He will be in St. Louis August 12.

Louis Benneke of Brunswick, Mo., is a late arrival at the capital. Mr. Benneke is here as the Republican referee in posto-ffice matters and is anxious to secure the appointment of Editor Luster as the postmaster at Brunswick in January next.

Senator Teller is taking care of a slight cold which he contracted in the Senate Chamber through the recent change inaugurated in the ventilation of the hall. To your correspondent the Senator said the protracted and arduous session had worn very heavily upon the members of both houses of Congress. When adjournment would come he could not say. "The river and harbor," said he, "is the order for Friday next, and I think it will shortly be disposed of."

As to the federal election bill, Senator Teller said that was a very complicated question with him.

Nominations by the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The President has sent to the Senate to-day the following nominations:

LIEUT.-COL. THOS. M. VINCENT, Assistant Adjutant-General, to be Colonel and Assistant Adjutant-General.

MAJ. MORRITT BARBEY, Assistant Adjutant General, to be Lietenant-Colonel and Assistant Adjutant-General.

POSTMASTERS.

MISSOURI—A. F. Huggins, Shelbina.
NEBRASKA—J. M. Glasgow, South Omaha.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The Senate met at 10 a. m. and a call showed that there were only thirty-two Senators, eleven less than a quorum, in attendance. After a short waiting, while the Sergeant-at-Arms was supposed to be inviting the attendance of absent Senators, a quorum was obtained, and the journal of yesterday's proceedings was read by the Secretary. After some preliminary morning business the tariff bill was taken up, the pending question being on Mr. Vance's amendment to reduce the duty on pig iron (paragraph 128, page 25) from 3-10 of a cent per pound to $5 per ton.

Mr. Edmunds presented a letter received by him from Mr. Weaver, Acting-Commissioner of the Department of Labor, giving the figures of the cost of direct labor in the several processes of converting the natural elements into pig-iron, steel ingots and steel rails, the total being $11.59 for a ton of steel rails out of a total cost of $25.77, or at the rate of 45 per cent for direct labor from beginning to end.

Mr. Reagan remarked that that estimate was only one-half of Mr. Hewitt's estimate, which was 90 per cent.

Mr. Edmunds explained that Mr. Hewitt's statement included all the labor cost, while that now presented only applied to the direct cost. The question was taken and Mr. Vance's amendment was rejected—yeas, 17; nays, 27. There was no deviation from party lines on this vote.

The next paragraph (129) taxes bar iron, round iron, flats and square iron from 8-10ths of a cent to 1 cent per pound, according to classification.

Mr. McPherson stated that the average duty in the paragraph was 9-10 of a cent per pound, and that the duty on a ton of such iron (in equal quantities) would be $20.16 per ton. The iron referred to was iron of the lowest quality—not charcoal iron—and the duty proposed was altogether too high. He moved to amend by striking out the rates per pound and inserting a uniform rate of 50 per cent ad valorem. He quoted latest prices of English iron of the same descriptions and qualities and said that the duty proposed in the bill was equal to from 65 to 80 per cent ad valorem.

Mr. Sherman questioned Mr. McPherson's statement and figures. After further debate, Mr. McPherson's amendment was rejected, yeas, 18; nays, 28—another strict party vote. The next paragraph (130) taxes round iron in coils or rods (of certain shapes and sizes) 1 1-10 cents per pound with a proviso that all charcoal iron shall be subject to a duty of not less than $22 per ton.

Mr. Aldrich assured Mr. McPherson (in reply to an objection of his) that the proviso did not apply to pig iron.

Mr. McPherson moved to reduce the various rates in the paragraph. Rejected.

Mr. Vance moved to reduce the rate in paragraph 131 (beams, girders and other structural shapes of iron or steel) from 9-10 to 6-10 of 1 cent per pound. Mr. Gray asked to be informed why the duty on structural forms of steel and iron used for ships and buildings should be reduced. The duty should be entirely removed, he said, in such structural forms as were to be used in vessels intended for foreign trade. That could not injure any domestic business, because no vessels for foreign commerce were being constructed in the United States.

Mr. Aldrich remarked that a provision for that purpose was made in another paragraph.

Mr. Paddock appealed to Mr. Aldrich, in the interest of agriculture, to agree to a reduction of at least 1-10 cent per pound on structural iron.

Mr. Aldrich hearkened to the appeal and on his motion the rate was reduced to 8-10 cent per pound.

Mr. Vance's amendment to make it 6-10 cent having been rejected.

The next paragraph, (132) applies to boiler iron or steel and imposes duties varying, according to classification from 1 cent per pound to 3 1-10 cents per pound—the duty on the highest class to be 45 cents ad valorem.

Mr. Vest, after an argument controverting the protectionist claim that low prices are the result of tariff legislation, moved to reduce the various specific rates in the paragraphs to 50 per cent ad valorem; rejected, yeas, 20; nays, 26—a strict party vote.

The House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—On motion of Mr. Bingham of Pennsylvania a resolution was adopted calling on the Postmaster-General for copies of the agreements of transportation of mails between the United States and foreign countries. The condition upon which the awards are made and the rates of payment of the service. The House then went into Committee of the Whole (Mr. Payson of Illinois, in the chair) on the general deficiency bill.

WILL NOT CHANGE THE HOUR.

The Next Government Crop Report to Appear at the Usual Time.

The question in relation to changing the hour of issue of the monthly crop report compiled by the Department of Agriculture will not be decided at once. A telegram was received this morning by Secretary George H. Morgan of the Merchants' Exchange from Assistant Statistician Snow, stating that the next report will be issued at the usual hour, 4 p. m., and that a final decision in relation to future reports would be arrived at within a short time. As the matter now stands, the exchanges of New York, Chicago and Milwaukee desire the report to be issued at 1 p. m. New York time, and the exchanges of St. Louis, Baltimore, Toledo and Detroit favor the hour of midnight. At present there will be no change.

A POOR MARKSMAN.

Charles Richardson Killed by a Stray Bullet Near the Fair Grounds.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Coroner Frank will hold an inquest in the case of the negro, Charles Richardson, alias Brooks, who was killed shortly after noon yesterday. Claus Roenfeld, a saloon-keeper doing business at Prairie avenue and Natural Bridge road, and two young brothers named Henry and Stephen Geltemeyer, are locked up at the Four Courts to await the result of this investigation. The Geltemeyers have been working on a farm near Florrisant for some time. Yesterday they became engaged in a quarrel with Roenfeld in the latter's saloon and a street fight was the result. The brothers used rocks with good effect and Roenfeld's head was soon badly cut. The saloon man finally ran into his place of business, and, seizing his revolver, fired four times at the Geltemeyer boys as they ran away. One of the balls struck Richardson, who was standing near the south gate of the Fair Grounds, some distance away. It penetrated the left eye, inflicting a wound from the effect of which the victim died while in an ambulance on the way to the City Hospital. Roenfeld has retained Gov. Johnston to defend him.

BLOWN UP BY GAS.

Mother and Child Fatally Burned—Dynamite Killed Him.

NORWOOD, O. Aug. 7.—An accident occurred Tuesday evening on the premises of O. Buddemier, by which three men will probably lose their lives. Contracter Espel, who was at work on the church adjacent, was granted the privilege of drawing all the water he wanted from Buddemier's well. The fact that it is sixty feet in depth and contains forty-five feet of water was scouted by one by the victims. Michael Kuenzel and Joe Sebastian were drawn into discussion and the former was not willing to accept the statement that the well was deep. He opened the trap door on the six foot square platform over the well's mouth. Lighting a match Kuenzel dropped it toward the water, but it went out. "I smell gas," remarked Mr. Kuenzel. He did, but he foolishly twisted a newspaper and sent it after the burnt-out match. In an instant there was an explosion. Kuenzel, Sebastian and a teamster named Barney Prues, who were standing on the platform, were blown into the air. All were horribly burned and bruised, and it is doubtful if any of them recover.

Mother and Child Fatally Burned.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Boersna, living on One hundred and Twenty-seventh street, attempted to light her fire with kerosene. The can exploded, burning her and her little girl, 6 months old. Both died in five hours.

Bridge Jumper McCaffrey.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 7.—The body of Bridge Jumper McCaffrey of Montreal, who last Sunday jumped 130 feet into the river from a pair of spars in Easson Boston ship yard, was found floating in the water to-day.

Fatal Dynamite Explosion.

WESTFIELD, N. Y., Aug. 7.—John Targart, employed at the Waterworks here, was killed yesterday by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge.

THE KNIGHTS' APPEAL.

A Cable Message to Depew—Cloakmakers' Trouble Reopened—Labor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The trouble between the New York Central Railroad and the Knights of Labor on account of the thirty or forty men who were laid off gains ground. It appears that nearly as many men have been dismissed between Buffalo and Albany as on the Hudson River division, and it is on the Buffalo division that the Knights are strongest. Officers of the company who have closely observed the situation admit that there are between 4,000 and 5,000 Knights employed on the New York Central system. It has also been discovered that a very large percentage of the Brotherhood men are identified with the Knights of Labor. Conductors, passenger brakemen, yardmen and nearly all the freight train men belong to the latter order. High officials of the Knights are expected to arrive in town to-day for purposes of conference.

Last evening E. J. Lee, District Master Workman of District Assembly 246, sent the following cable dispatch to Chauncey M. Depew at Paris:

"Your subordinate officers are discharging by the wholesale your old employes. The situation demands immediate action on your part. Wire answer."

In the yards of the company at the foot of Sixty-fifth street fifty men are on strike because of an alleged decrease of salary.

The Binghamton Cigar Makers.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Three of the twenty-four striking cigar makers, who were arrested for doing picket duty and charged with disorderly conduct, were discharged and one was fined. In the latter case an appeal was immediately taken and the case will be fought stubbornly.

The Recorder announced this morning that the remaining cases would be dismissed, but he stipulated that the police who made the arrests should not be prosecuted. The lawyers for the defendants agreed to this, but stated that an action would be brought against the Police Commissioners who ordered the arrests.

The Cloakmakers' Troubles.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Cloak Contractors Association held a meeting last night which lasted until 4 o'clock this morning and decided to cut loose from the Cloak Operators Association and make no discrimination betwee nunion and non-union men. Most of the Union operators have left the contractors' shops, but the latter are employing non-Unionist and will hereafter educate American girls to this trade. On the other hand, the Operators Union have ordered all their men out and by this evening they will be out of work.

Union Men Win.

FARMINGTON, N. H., Aug. 7.—The strike of the Boot and Shoe Workers' International Union for a restoration of a 5 per cent cut down at the factories of H. B. Edgerly & Son was settled yesterday in favor of the strikers, the terms being: The wages restored, a union shop in the future and the ultimate reference of future troubles to the general board of the union.

PABLO BEACH'S BIG FIRE.

Murray Hall, an Elegant Summer Hotel, Burned to the Ground.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 7.—Murray Hall, an elegant summer hotel at Pablo Beach, burned to the ground early this morning. The hotel was of wood, four stories high, with numerous towers, turrets and gables, and the flames made quick work of it. There were fifty guests in the hotel at the time, but the warning was sufficient to enable them to escape in good order with their effects. Fire was also communicated to the Beach Pavilion, a prominent dance hall, and the depot of the Jacksonville & Atlantic Railroad, which were entirely consumed; also one small grocery store north of the railroad property. Murray Hall was built in 1885-6, and was the property of John G. Christopher and wife of this city, and was valued at $200,000. Christopher's loss, including furniture, is about $225,000. He had only $40,000 insurance. The hotel had been leased for the season to J. W. Campbell, proprietor of the St. James Hotel, this city, whose loss is slight. The railroad company's loss is $6,000; insurance, 35,500.

Milwaukee's G. A. R. Delegation.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., August 7.—The special Wisconsin train bound for the twenty-fourth National Grand Army Encampment will leave Milwaukee Friday morning, and is scheduled to arrive in Boston at noon on Sunday. Enough passengers have already been secured to fill more than twenty coaches, which will be run in three sections. On the train will be Gov. Hoard, in addition to all the department officers and the officers of the Women's Relief Corps.

A Sensible Precaution.

Though disease cannot always be conquered, its first approach can be checked. But not only is the use of a medicinal safeguard to be recommended on the first appearance of a malady, but a wise discrimination should be exercised in the choice of a remedy. For thirty years or more Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been the reigning specific for dyspepsia, fever and ague, a loss of physical stamina, liver complaint and other disorders, and has been most emphatically indorsed by medical men as a health and strength restorative. It is indeed a wise precaution to use this sovereign fortifying agent and alterative in the early stages of disease, for its effectually counteracts it, if the malady belongs to that large class to which this sterling medicine is adapted. Not only is it efficacious, but pure and harmless.

LIVE STOCK.

Union Stock Yards.

DON N. PALMER, Manager. Closing hour, 3 p. m.

Cattle—There was a good run of cattle at the Union Yards to-day, but they were all of the common kind. However, they sold well at the low prices, and trade was fairly active at the prices. There was a scarcity of good butcher cattle. They were wanted and there was a feeling of 10c better per 100 lbs in prices on that class of material. All kinds of bulls are selling slower and are off 15c per 100 lbs.

The following quotations are furnished by the Live Stock Exchange:

Butchers steers, 1,000 to 1,100	$3 00@3 50

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7, 11 a. m.—The stock market opened with an unusually large volume of business this morning and notwithstanding that the first prices were generally from ⅛ to ½ per cent higher than last evening's final figures, it soon developed a decidedly weak tone, and everything traded in scored material declines. There was special activity in Atchison, Missouri Pacific, St. Paul, Oregon Transcontinental, Lackawanna, Rock Island and New England, but Sugar Refineries which had gone back to a secondary position yesterday, came again to the front and on a large business declined 1⅞ per cent to 80¼, while the losses in the regular list were for fractional amounts only. Oregon Transcontinental and Burlington leading with ¾ each. The decline was checked at this point and the market became dull, while the recoveries were generally insignificant, although Sugar rose 1 per cent only, to fall back again fractionally. The market failed to develop any further feature, and at 11 o'clock it was dull and steady at close to the lowest prices reached.

Noon.—Money is close at 5@7 per cent. After 11 o'clock the firm tone was continued and further advances made which brought prices in most cases close to the opening, and in a few instances, among which Atchison, Missouri Pacific, New England and Rock Island were conspicuous, even above that level. The market, however, remained very quiet and little feature marked the dealings unless the strength in Burlington may be treated as such. At noon the market was very dull, but firm in tone at about opening prices.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Bar silver 111½.

3 p. m.—Money closed close at 4 per cent. Bar silver, 111½. The stock market closed dull but firm, at about opening figures.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 7.—Mexican 4s, —; stock, 22½@23½; Calumet, 295@300; Huron, 7½; Allouez, 7¾@8.

LONDON, Aug. 7, 12:30 p. m.—Consols opened at 95 15-16 for money and 96 5-16 for the account.

4 p. m.—Closing—Consols money, 95⅞; do account, 96¼; United States, 4s, 126¼; do 4½s, 105½; Canadian Pacific, 80½; Erie, 25⅝; do seconds, 104; [illegible] Mexican ordinary, 43½; St. Paul common, 73; New York Central, 109¾; Reading, 21⅞; bar silver, 50 13-16d per ounce; money, 4½@4½ per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for both short and three-months bills is 4⅝ per cent.

AMONG THE BROKERS.

A Fair Market—Stocks Sold and Prices Obtained To-Day.

On the Mining Exchange there was more active trading to-day than was the case yesterday, and prices were firm.

Elizabeth opened at $2.10 asked, $2.07½ bid, and at first it appeared that no sales would be made. Finally a seller at $2.07½ was found and 400 shares were transferred. The market then declined, the stock being offered at $2.07½, with no takers.

* * *

Richmond Hill opened on call at 14 bid, 15 asked, but no sales were made. The stock subsequently rose, 17½ was paid for 500 shares, and more could have been sold at the same rate.

In spite of the favorable nature of the reports lately received from the American and Nettie, the stock was weak and the price low. A sale of 100 shares was made at $1.80, and more was offered at that figure with no takers.

* * *

There was no trading in Little Albert on the floor of the Mining Exchange, but yesterday afternoon and this morning sales aggregating over 10,000 shares of the treasury stock were made at 35.

Silver Age was in good demand, and 300 shares sold at $1.45.

Puzzle was offered at 25; 100 Tourtelotte changed hands at 5; Cascade was offered at 14; St. Joe was 10 asked; 100 Central Silver sold at 17½; Cinnabar was 50 asked; 1,000 Samoa sold at 1½.

ST. LOUIS MARKETS.

Grain and Flour.

Wheat—There was too much realizing this morning for the market to stand up under it and the consequence was a break after a strong opening. The news was bullish enough. Foreign markets were firm and higher, the early cables reporting ½d advance and second cables up another ⅛d, but weather still fine abroad and crop conditions more favorable. Export clearances from the seaboard were 35,000 pkgs flour and 170,000 bu wheat. The Cincinnati Price Current had reduced its estimate to 405,000,000 bu for the crop. Reports from the Southwest were of hot, dry weather and complaints regarding the crop. Our receipts were again less—33,000 bu—than one year ago. All other markets were higher. At the first rush to buy December sold at $1.00¼, but there was so much for sale that the price at once broke. The offerings came largely from an overloaded "scalper," though general realizing was liberal. Considering how steadily the offerings kept pouring out, the market took them readily and prices were remarkably well sustained. On the first decline December went to 99c, recovered to 99⅜@½c, fell off to 99¼c, advanced to 99⅝c, weakened to 99@⅛c, rallied to 99⅜c, sold down to 98⅞c and back to 98⅞c. Subsequently all the outside markets began to run down and the pressure to sell increased so that December broke to 98⅜c, rallied to 98½c, fell to 98⅛c, reacted to 98⅜c and closed at 98⅝@¾c, which was 1¼c below yesterday. August sold at 94c. September opened at 95⅜c, sold off to 94⅞c, back to 95⅛c, down to 94⅞c, to 94⅞c, to 94⅝c, and closed at 94½c asked. May sold at $1.05⅜, off to $1.04⅝, and at the close $1.04⅝ bid. SPOT GRADES—No. 2 red was off a small fraction, but no pressure was shown to sell, though the only buyers were speculators. At close it could not be sold at 94c. The lower grades were right firm and met a good milling demand. Sales—No. 2 red—5,000 bu and 16 cars regular at 94c, 8 cars at 94⅛c. No. 3 red—1 car in C. at 89¼c, 3 in St. L. and 9 in C. at 89½c, 1 E. side and 5 in Cdlt. at 89⅝c, 11 E. side at 90c. No. 4—3 cars in C. and 4 in Cdlt., at 83½c; same bid for E. Side, and St. L. offered at 83c. Rejected offered regular at 75c, bid 70c for E. Side. No. 2 hard offered at 91c, bid 89c. No. 3 hard offered at 84c, bid 83½. SAMPLES—Offerings were rather small and under an active milling demand, some of which came from outside mills, about all the offerings were cleared up and full prices paid. Sales: Special bin—1 car rejected at 76c. 1 do at 77c, 1 No. 4 at 84c, 2 do at 85@85½c, 1 at 87c, 1 No. 3 at 90c, 2 do at 90½c. West track—1 car rejected at 80c, 2 No. 2 at 94½c. East track—4 cars No. 3 at 90½c, 2 do at 91c, 2 No. 2 at 94¼c, 2 do at 94½c. Sacks—19 poor at 80c, 285 at 90c, 425 at 92c, 717 at 93, 210 at 93½c, 1,133 at 94c.

Corn—The opening was strong on the continued dry and hot weather, but the statement of the Cincinnati Price Current that a 1,600,000,000 crop was promised brought out a great deal for sale and the market weakened, the break in wheat helping to soften the feeling also. Cables were strong and ½d dearer and clearances from the seaboard 236,000 bu, but outside markets declined and generally showed weakness. There were predictions, said to emanate from the Government Weather Bureau, that rains would be general all over the West inside twenty-four hours. There was enough at any rate to run prices down at a lively ra e late in the session and the close was 1@1¼c below yesterday. September opened at 50c and sold off to 49½c, back to 49⅝c to 49½c to 49¾c to 49½c to 48⅞c to 48⅞c and closed at 48⅜c. October sold at 50⅛c to 50c. May opened at 54c and sold off to 53⅞c up to 54⅛c to 53⅞c, to 54c to 53¼@⅜c to 53⅜c, to 53c to 53½c, and at close 53⅜c bid. August—No. 2 white sold at 49½c. SPOT GRADES were right firm, and there was a good order demand, but after the future market broke down there were no buyers at near what was obtainable earlier. Sales: No. 2—11 cars regular at 48c, 5 in U. at 48⅛c, 1 in St. L. at 48¼c, 1 in St. L. and 3 in Cdlt. at 48⅜c. No. 2 white—1 car E. side, 5 this side, 2 in D., 1 in Cdlt., 4 in St. L. at 49½c, 4 E. side at 50c; latter bid for C. No. 2 color—2 cars E. side at 49⅛c; for St. L. and M. 49⅛c bid. No. 3 white—48c bid for C., St. L. and I. No. 3—48c bid for St. L. and M. No. 4—46c bid for E. side. SAMPLES—466 sks white at 50c, 180 St. Charles at 50½c. Sacked lots on orders, 56@57c.

Oats—Naturally this market was affected by the break in wheat and corn, but did not have near as many sellers as the others. August sold at 39⅞c to 40c. September at 39⅛c to 39⅝c. May at 43⅛c to 42⅞c. SPOT GRADES weaker. 2 cars No. 2 selling to an order buyer at 39½c, and that bid for more. No. 3 offered regular at 38c, bid 37⅝c. No. 3 white offered E. side at 40c, no bid. SAMPLES—Offerings were moderate and the market steady, with a good demand for all grades and full prices paid. The local trade was taking all offerings, even low grades improving. Sales: 1 car low grade at 36c, 1 No. 4 at 37c, 1 No. 3 at 38c, 2 do at 38½c, 2 do at 39c, 1 No. 3 color at 39c, 1 do at 39½c, 5 No. 2 at 39½c, 2 do at 39¾c, 1 do at 40c, 1 No. 2 Northern mixed at 40c, 1 do at 41c, 1 No. 3 white at 40½c, 2 do at 40½c, 1 do at 41c, 4 No. 2 white at 42c, also 1 poor No. 3 white at 37½c. Sacked lots on orders, 46@47c.

Rye—There was no offerings. Grade No. 2 was worth 60c, and No. 3 about 57c.

Flour—The market was very dull, as buyers were holding off for concessions and sellers generally stiff in their views. Sales: 150 bbls at $3.10, 1 car skd at $3.70, 1,000 bbls extra fancy at $4.40.

Quotations range: XXX, $2.50@2.60; family, $2.75@2.85; choice, $3.10@3.30; fancy, $3.80@4; extra fancy, $4.40@4.50; patents, $4.80@4.95. Prices for lots on levee and on this side.

Cornmeal—Strong and in demand at $2.55@2.60, and pearl meal, grits and hominy at $3@3.10.

Rye Flour—Slow sale at $2.85@2.95. Sale 1 car unsound at $1 per cwt.

Hay and Mill Feed.

Bran—Higher and strong, but the demand mainly speculative, as few orders were here. Sales—2 cars sacked at country point at 77c, 1 E track at 79c, 6 do at 80c.

Hay—Receipts of timothy and prairie were again plentiful, and this caused a weak and depressed market. The demand was altogether local, and there was no shipping outlet whatever. Only the very best grades sold; common dull and dragging. Sales: 5 cars Iowa prairie at $8, 4 Kansas at $9, 5 do at $9.50; 1 do at $9.75; fancy do at $10; 1 mixed poor timothy at $8; 2 prime at $10; 4 do at $11; 2 strictly prime at $11.50; 6 do at $12; 1 choice at $12.50; 1 do at $13, 1 do at $13.50, 2 fancy at $14, 1 East side at $10.75, also 1 hot Iowa prairie at $6.50.

Provisions.

Yesterday afternoon there was quite a good trade in up country meats to arrive c. and f. here, 50,000 lbs 16-lb green hams selling at 7.80c and 50,000 lbs fully cured 50-lb c'ribs at 5.42½c, besides 50,000 lbs 40@45-day 60 lb c'ribs and 200,000 lbs 30-day 55 lb c'ribs, the terms of which were kept private. To-day the market had lost all of yesterday's buoyancy and in sympathy with corn and other declines elsewhere, was weaker. Holders generally, particularly of bacon, were firm, which checked trading materially. Country dry salt fully cured c'ribs were held at 5.60c, the country holder having had his ideas inflated by yesterday's advance, but there were other offerings of fully-cured 50-lb c'ribs at 5.32½c c. and f. here that could not be sold.

Pork—Standard mess pork in a small way on orders f. o. b. at $11.50; irregular (summer packed) at $11.25; orders at $12.75.

Lard—Prime steam salable at 5⅞c; fancy leaf on orders, 6¾c; kettle rendered, 6⅜c on orders.

Dry Salt Meats—Loose of shipping age in a small way f o b. on cash orders—Shoulders at 5⅜c; longs and c'ribs, 5½c; shorts at 5.65c; boxed shoulders, 5½c; longs at 5¾c; c'ribs at 5.55@5.60c; shorts at $5.70@5.75. On orders—Boxed shoulders, 5¾c; longs, 5¾c, c'ribs, 5¾c; shorts, 5⅞c.

Bacon—Packed shoulders sold at 5⅝c, longs at 6.05c, c'ribs at 6.05@6⅛c, shorts at 6.20@6¼c. On orders—Shoulders, 6¼c; longs, 6¼c; c'ribs, 6¼c; shorts, 6⅜c.

Hams—Range from 10@12½c, as in size or brand.

Country Bacon—Mostly skippery. Free from skippers, 5c, and skippery, 3@3½c.

Country Lard—Very dull at 4@4½c.

Breakfast Bacon—Sells at 8@9c per lb. Beef—Family, $8.50@10 per bbl, $5@6 per ½-bbl; on orders higher. Dried, 9@10c, and selected, 11c per lb. Smoked beef tongues, $4@5 per doz.

Highwines—Higher at $1.13 in St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati; $1.14 in Peoria.

Lead and Spelter.

Lead—Dull. Sale of a car at $4.20 and market worth about that.

Spelter—Nominal at $5.15@5.20.

Afternoon Curb.

December wheat, 98½c b; puts, 97½c; calls, 99½; September corn, 48½c b; puts, 47½c; calls, 49½c.

Chicago—September wheat, 95½c b. September corn, 49⅝c b.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Fruits.

Grapes—The market was steady for choice bunches, though a good deal of inferior fruit is arriving. We quote: Hartfords at 35@40c and Concords at 40@50c per 9-lb baskets: home grown, 5@6c per lb.

Cantaloupes—Very dull. We quote consignments: 25@35c; Home-grown, 60@80c per crate.

Pears—Scarce and wanted. Prices range: Common, 50@75c and Le Conte 75c@$1 per ⅓ bu box.

Apples—Large and choice in very good demand, though most of the receipts were small and undesirable. We quote: Sweet varieties, $1.25@1.75; choice to fancy will bring from $2.25@2.75 per bbl.

Peaches—Scarce and firm, and a good demand for both small and large. Prices range 75c@$1.25 ⅓-bu box. Home-grown very scarce; sales at $3@3.50 ⅌ bu.

Plums—Steady and in fair demand. We quote: Wild goose at $3 and damsons at $3.00@3.25 per bu.

Crab Apples—We quote Siberian at $1.25@1.50 per bu. Receipts very light.

California Fruits—In good supply. We quote pears at $2.50@3.00; peaches, $1.25@2; German prune, $1.50@2; apricots, $2@2.50; plums at $1.25@1.75 per box.

Blueberries—Scarce and in fair demand. We quote at 70@80c per 2-gallon case.

Oranges—Firm. We quote Rodi at $7 per box, all repacked.

Coconnuts—$4 per 100, $35 per 1,000.

Bananas—Choice bunches on orders at $1.75@2.25 per bunch.

Watermelons—Receipts continue large and market unchanged. Choice, well-loaded cars were in best demand. Prices range—$35@55 for small and $75@100 for large and choice. Sales—2 at $40, 4 at $45, 3 at $50, 1 at $60, 5 at $75, 2 at $82.50, 3 at $90, 1 at $95, 3 at $100 per car.

Vegetables.

Potatoes—Owing to the light receipts the market was firm and higher. Sales at 90@$1 by loose wagon loads and 75@85c on the levee, and on orders $1.10 per bu.

Tomatoes—The market was extremely dull, caused by the large receipts of home grown. We quote consignments at 10@15c per peck and 15@20c per ⅓-bu box. Home grown 50@90c per bu, according to condition and quality.

Cabbage—Northern firm and in rather good demand. We quote at $2.75@3. and on orders, $3.25@3.50 per crate.

Onions—Scarce, firm, and in good demand. We quote: Small, 75c@1, and large $1.20@1.30 per bu.

String Beans—Steady. Sales at $2.75@3.00 per bu box.

Sweet Potatoes—Southern Queen sell at $1.50@$1.75 per sk.

Cucumbers—Very dull. Consignments, 5@10c, and home-grown on orders at 20@25c per doz.

Gumbo—Southern dull. We quote sales at 25@35c per ⅓-bu box.

Eggplant—Dull; Southern at 25@50c per doz.

Beets—Home-grown sell on orders at 25c per doz.

Carrots—Home-grown on orders at 25c per doz bunches.

Celery—Selling slowly at 10@30c per bunch.

Poultry and Game.

Live Poultry—The offering again light and a decidedly better feeling. We quote—Hens, 7½c, roosters 3½c, spring chickens 9@10c, (according to size), young ducks and geese at 7c per lb.

Lambs—Dull. Sales were made at 4@4½c per lb.

Game—Good demand. We quote: Woodcock at $4; wood duck at $2.25; mallard, $3.25; teal, $2.50 per doz; frogs' legs, 30@50c; old pigeons, $1.25; squabs, $1.00 per doz.

Veals—Dull and weak. We quote choice and fat at 4c; medium at 3@3½c; heretics and thin at 2@2½c ⅌ lb.

Butter and Eggs.

Butter—Receipts, 45,603 lbs. Owing to the extreme drouth in the North the make of butter has fallen off and unless heavy rains come to the relief, dealers look for still higher prices. Low and common and grease butter unchanged.

Chicago Market Letters.

Private Wire to J. P. Grier.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Our wheat market on the curb sold higher on the improved cables, but the close is weak and at about the lowest price of the day.

Northwestern reports continue conflicting, but until we have the thrashers at work the quality or quantity of the crop will not be known. Meantime the sentiment here is bullish, and on all such breaks of to-day we think purchases will prove profitable. The Price Current estimates say 405,000,000 bu winter and spring are as heavy as expected.

A 1,600,000,000 corn crop is greater than was generally expected, and causes a weak feeling.

Oats keep very firm and don't decline much.

Provisions ruled weak. Packers were sellers and in the absence of any buying orders easily influenced lower prices. A portion of the decline was regained at the close. We advise buying on any break in prices.

F. G. LOGAN & CO.

Special to J. C. Ewald.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Wheat—The key to to-day's market was the report of the Cincinnati Price Current estimating the wheat crop at 410,000,000 and the corn crop at 1,600,000,000.

The result of this estimate was to advance prices sharply on the curb, but mature reflection showed operators that the crop of corn was a good average one and that of wheat not nearly so small as the enthusiastic bulls have been estimated. The result was free realizing in both articles. The fact is, too much high-priced wheat is held in this market and until we get a shake out we see but little chance of any material advance. News in wheat was scarce. Slightly higher cables and an advance of 15c on flour in St. Louis were about the only bull items.

Corn was strong early, but broke badly and closed very weak. Adding the Price Current's estimate of the crop, the crop of last year (2,100,000,000) and the year before (1,900,000,000) gives us an average for the three years of 1,866,000,000, which insures a large amount of old corn being held in reserve. Under these circumstances we consider 50c much too high and believe that there must be a complete shaking-out of the lines of long corn held at high prices before we will have any upturn in the market.

Provisions were weak, with heavy sales by packers and by local holders of long stuff. Lard and pork felt the pressure more than ribs.

The close was very tame, with indications of lower prices to-morrow.

THE WEATHER.

A Long Delayed Rain Visits St. Louis and Vicinity.

Last night rain fell. A storm passed over the western portion of the city from west of south. The heaviest fall of rain was in the center of the storm, and that was 5 miles west of the Custom-house. At the latter point, according to the Signal Service report, only 2-100 of an inch of rain fell. At Benton a rain gauge showed 25-100 of an inch. The rain extended into the county, and everywhere it went the trees, grass and plants looked up with new life. The roads, which had been ground for nearly seven weeks into dust, became firm ways again for the dust was laid. The rain was not heavy; it was accompanied by some wind. Rains have fallen in the vicinity which have been much heavier, but nowhere has rain been so much needed. Two more rains like that within a week would decrease the cost of living—in so far as it is affected by garden produce—20 per cent.

The prediction is to-day fair weather and stationary temperature.

BOSLEY VS. O'CONNOR.

A Suit for Slander Which Will Probably Be Filed Soon.

School Director E. M. Bosley is preparing to bring a suit for slander against Director E. J. O'Connor on account of an article which appeared in a morning paper on August 2. Director O'Connor is represented as saying that while Bosley was with the A. Siegle Gas Fixture Co. he used his influence as a director to secure contracts for that company, superintended the work and charged magnificently for work never done. Director Bosley, of course, denies this, and it was reported this afternoon that he had brought suit for slander. That report was untrue, but a certain attorney has stated that he was going to bring suit for Director Bosley and that he was engaged in preparing the papers.

Fired by Incendiaries.

READING, Pa., Aug. 7.—The large brick barn on the farm of Frank M. F. Esterly in Exeter Township, this county, was fired by incendiaries last night and totally destroyed with contents, including all of this year's crops from a 200-acre farm. Loss $20,000; partially insured.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

Two Suits for Heavy Damages—An Indignant Constable—Belleville News.

Antoine Noedh brought suit in the City Court this morning against the Charles Pope Glucose Co. for $5,000 damages for a broken leg. The plaintiff, who was an employe of the Glucose Co. in their works at Venice, claims that while at work for the defendant recently his leg was accidentally broken, through no fault of his own, and asks the amount mentioned in reparation for the injury. Several other cases of interest were filed in the same court. Mary Sumner brought suit against the St. Louis, Alton & Terre Haute Railway Co. for $5,000 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained by her two years ago. She claims that she was struck by a locomotive on the Cairo Short Line track at the foot of Broadway in East St. Louis, and thereby injured to such an extent that she thinks she is entitled to the sum named. Patrick Halloran commenced proceedings in assumpsit against Garret, Eugene and John Halloran, his brothers, for $10,000, claimed to be due him on accounts. Mrs. Fanny Lingham filed a petition for a divorce from her husband, Henry Lingham, on the grounds of desertion.

An incident occurred at the police station yesterday afternoon that resulted in the charge of disturbing the peace being preferred against Constable Thomas Ryan. The Constable brought a colored prisoner to the station and requested Chief Walsh to hold him until he could be tried, which the Chief refused to do for the reason that he thought Ryan was abusing the privilege of using the police cells, which had previously been accorded him and which he had obtained only through the courtesy of the head of the department. Ryan met the refusal with a tirade of abusive language, and Chief Walsh promptly placed him under arrest and locked him up. He was bailed out shortly after and will be tried for disturbing the peace before Justice Davis.

J. W. Staley reported to the police to-day the disappearance of an employe, James Lee, colored, with a wagon and team of sorrel mules. He stated that Lee had left the Langdon farm, two miles beyond Collinsville, yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, with a load of apples to be taken to the St. Louis market. Nothing has been heard from him since, and his employer fears that he has met with an accident or has disposed of the team and load.

A colored man who says his name is Edward Colville dropped into the police station last night and was detained by the officers, who soon discovered that he was demented. He could give no account of himself, so the police locked him up and will hold him until further information can be obtained.

Ground was broken to-day for the new Garfield school house in District No. 2, Illinois City, which will be erected before the next school term begins. The building will be of brick, two stories high, with eight rooms, and will cost $40,000. It will be built to the new grade of the city.

William Brady had a hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice Bunyan on the charge of mayhem, preferred by Thomas Duffy, who testified that Brady had bitten him on the chin in a fight. He was held for the Grand-jury under bond of $400.

Work was resumed to-day on the new church at Fourth street and Converse avenue, in St. Mary's Parish, the cornerstone of which was laid on the Fourth of July, and will proceed until the edifice is completed.

J. P. Becker has gone East on a pleasure trip and will spend several weeks at Rye Beach, N. Y., and Boston, Mass.

A young man who gave the name of Frank Ritell and claimed to be a detective was arrested by the police last night on suspicion.

The Jolly Knights Social Club gave a moonlight excursion up the river last night on the steamer Grand Republic.

The J. C. Hanna Base Ball Club will play the Venice Reds next Sunday at the grounds near the stock yards.

Belleville.

Miss Maria Schroeder of Lenzburg was adjudged insane in the County Court this morning and will be sent to the Anna Asylum. Her insanity developed a few weeks ago, when she was placed in the County Hospital and remained there until to-day. She is a sister of John Schroeder, a farmer of Lenzburg township. Her age is 22 years.

Mrs. Elizabeth Handrich, who lives south of Belleville on the Georgetown road, came to the city yesterday in a wagon. As she was crossing the Cairo Short Line tracks near the depot the wagon was struck by a locomotive and she was thrown to the ground, but received no injury, though she was dragged some distance by the team and was seriously bruised.

The Lebanon, Mascoutah & Fayetteville Railroad Co. has been licensed by the Secretary of State to incorporate with $100,000 capital. The incorporators and stockholders of the company are James D. Baker and Louis Zerweck of Lebanon, George Postel and Peter W. Lill of Mascoutah, Stephan Vohlkamp and George P. Wasem of Fayetteville, J. A. Koerner of Belleville.

Rev. Weise of Mascoutah will hold services at St. Paul's Free Protestant Church in Belleville next Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. William Weber, who is going East to spend a short vacation.

Mary Schuessler commenced suit to-day in the Circuit Court against George Schopp, Jr., for $5,000 damages for slander.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Henry Kessler and Emma Schnur of Freeburg; Edward B. Kersey and Jennie A. Ennert of Caseyville.

City Clerk Puderer received yesterday from the City Clerk of Easton, Pa., a letter inquiring for Daniel H. Meyers, formerly of Belleville, who has become the owner of considerable property through the death of a brother in California.

Boys who were fishing near the Fair Grounds yesterday found in a pond a number of silver-plated spoons, marked "E. A.," which have been identified as part of the property stolen recently from the residence of Edward Abend.

The Epworth League will hold a business meeting to-morrow evening at the M. E. Church. Officers will be elected to serve during the ensuing six months.

THE NEW BILL OF LADING.

Meeting of Boards of Trade Representatives at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—The representatives of the various Boards of Trade reconvened in the Board of Trade Building this morning to further consider the matter of the uniform non-negotiable bill of lading put into effect by the railroads of the country on the 1st instant. A telegram from Geo. H. Blanchard, Chairman of the Central Traffic Association, suggesting that the railroads and Chambers of Commerce appoint a joint committee to consider and act on the differences between the roads and the shippers was read.

EAGLE GLASS CO. FAILS.

A Secret Process of Glass Staining Causes the Trouble.

To the surprise of a great many the Eagle Glass & Metal Co., which occupies Joseph D. Vincent's seven-story building on Olive street, just west of Seventeenth, made a general assignment yesterday to George N. Davis for the benefit of all creditors. The company is composed of Alexander Davis, President; L. C. Nelson, Al Bevis, Andrew Warren and W. H. Warren. The company occupied the rather obscure premises, 919 Locust street for some years, until Warren, it is said made a wonderful discovery whereby he could turn out ornamental glass at one-fourth the cost it is now produced. Feeling sure of an increased trade the company leased the big building on Olive street, and put in one of the largest plants in the country. Every man in the company considered their fortunes made. Warren agreed to let the company leave his secret after the plant was put in operation on condition that he be placed in charge of the manufacturing department, be made a member of the Board of Directors and given an interest in the company. The secret in the meantime was to be placed in a box in the safe Deposit Co. vaults. The company went in debt, placed the factory in operation and then demanded the formula of Mr. Warren. He refused to deliver it it is said because the entire agreement had not been fulfilled. The officers of the company claim Warren wanted an exorbitant salary which they would not pay. They could come to no agreement on the salary matter and it was decided to settle the question by making an assignment. The assets of the company are given as $50,000, but the liabilities are not named though it is supposed they are near $50,000.

Mr. Warren claims the assignment is made to hurt him. The company had all the orders they could fill and the prospects for immense profits and a great fortune was assured. He claims they refused to give him half the stock of the company as agreed and that this demand caused the split. He feels assured matters will be righted in a day or so and that the business will go on as smoothly as before.

SET ON BY BULL DOGS.

Annie Ragenbauer, an 11-Year-Old Girl, Brutally Lacerated by Three Brutes.

George Hertel, head barkeeper and general supervisor at Tony Faust's, is the owner of three very vicious dogs, one of them a cross between a wolf and a bull dog. Last Monday little Annie Ragenbauer, the 11-year-old child of a washerwoman of that name, was sent by her mother to get the washing of Mrs. Susan Krampf, a lodger at Hertel's. The child knew nothing of the presence of the dogs and walked into the yard, where all three pounced upon her, tearing and lacerating her in a most frightful manner. They tore almost every particle of her clothing, and would doubtless have speedily killed her had not Mrs. Krampf, attracted by her cries, come to the rescue and dragged the dogs off. The poor little creature was conveyed home and Dr. Hussy called, who pronounced her wounds dangerous and possibly fatal. Tuesday she grew worse. Dr. Shea was called as assistant, and the combined efforts of the two physicians tided her over a terrible crisis of pain and suffering on Wednesday, since when she has been resting somewhat easier and given hope of recovery.

The child's mother holding the popular superstition, begged Hertel to kill the dogs to prevent hydrophobia. They being of blooded stock and valuable to a man of his disposition he refused to comply. He also refused to pay any portion of the physician's bill or otherwise assist the unfortunate mother and child. A warrant was yesterday sworn out against Hertel by the child's friends charging him with keeping vicious dogs and holding him responsible for the infliction of injuries upon the child. It is not likely, however, that the court can hold him guilty inasmuch as the dogs were on his own premises and the child a legal trespasser.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Frank Bruce, who is said to be wellconnected in Marshall, Saline County, Mo., was arrested in Omaha yesterday, charged with burglary. He attempted to shoot the officer that arrested him, but was soon disarmed.

Miss Maggie Goodwin, the 17-year-old daughter of a wealthy farmer near Jeffersonville, Ind., ran away with her father's hired hand yesterday and the act has created an immense sensation. The father and a committee are in hot pursuit.

W. B. Lingo, a maniac with homicidal notions, was taken in charge at Maize, Kan., by the authorities yesterday and locked up for safe keeping. When arrested he had his children in the yard standing in a line and was parading up and down in front of them with a loaded shot-gun, threatening to shoot the first one that moved.

Jack Williams, a negro 70 years of age, was arrested at Lawrence, Kan., yesterday, charged with criminal assault on a white woman living in Crawford County, Ark. Williams, although unable to read or write, is the Coroner of Crawford County, Ark. He claims that he was drunk when the assault was made.

Rev. Joel S. Kelsey, a Congregational Church pastor, disappeared from McCook, Neb., Tuesday, and will not, it is expected, return. His disappearance has created a sensation, as a young lady with whom he was very intimate with has made a confession implicating the pastor. His treatment of the young lady has aroused so much indignation that he will certainly suffer bodily harm if he returns.

Boy Burglars.

Charles Andrews and Wm. Moore, aged 15 years each, were arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Joseph Schuler, keeper of an ice cream saloon at 305 South Broadway. The charge is petit larceny, Schuler claiming that the boys stole $1.50 of his hard-earned money, some of which has since been recovered. Both the youngsters are rather tough customers, Andrews having been a resident of the House of Refuge for burglarizing a grocery on South Sixth street.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

PRESIDENT VON DER AHE'S PENNANT WINNING PREMIUMS.

Every Man in the Team to Have $100 if the Team Wins the Pennant—Who Will Play for the World's Championship?—Yesterday's Games—Racing at Guttenberg and Brighton Beach.

THOSE who saw yesterday's ball game at Sportsman's Park easily understood how, on their recent tour, the St. Louis Browns were almost invincible. The amount of life infused into the contest by the home team made the game of more than ordinary interest, and although both Fuller and Donnelly were credited with errors, the fielding was almost faultless. The pitching of Hart was a feature of the game, the handsome new addition to the battery strength holding the Syracuse men down to five hits and keeping these scattered in aggravating style. His delivery is puzzling, and now that he is acquainted with the players and infused with the Browns' spirit of confidence he has become an extremely valuable man. Wells' catching was faultless and his work also shows great improvement. In fact the whole team played well together and put up a game which would have downed the strongest opponent.

Mr. Von der Ahe is so pleased with the work of the boys and so satisfied that the pennant is within their grasp that he has made a very generous offer to the boys. It is this: If the Browns win the Association pennant he will give every player under contract $100, and if they once more earn the title of champions of the world he will divide his share of the gate receipts in the championship series with them. This offer is a remarkably liberal one, and the players are alive to the fact. There is a spirit of harmony and good feeling between the team and the president which is somewhat of a surprise to one or two of the newcomers, who came to St. Louis warned that they had signed with a very hard boss. But Mr. Von der Ahe has treated them exceedingly well, and they are fully aware of the fact. He interferes very little with the field management, having implicit confidence in Campau, and fines and suspensions are not even talked about.

That the Browns will beat out their only dangerous opponent in the race is more than probable, but what will happen then is less certain. Both the National and Players' Leagues will in all probability finish out their schedule, and there will be two Richmonds in the field this fall. It will practically rest with Mr. Von der Ahe which of the champion teams he selects for the world's championship series. Judging from published interviews, it is more than probable that he will join with the old League in ignoring the players. But the interviews are not very reliable, and need to be considered with due regard to their source. A contest between the Association and Brotherhood leaders would be immensely popular in St. Louis, especially if the latter happened to be the Chicago "pirates." Mysterious dispatches from Pittsburg indicate that the Brotherhood winners will certainly be challenged by Mr. Von der Ahe, but the question is really an open one and much depends on what may happen between this and the end of the season.

Won Easily.

The Browns turned the tables on Syracuse yesterday and won very easily by 8 to 2. Hart pitched a good game and was well caught by Wells. The Syracuse battery was Casey and Briggs. The score: St. Louis, 8; Syracuse, 2. Base hits—St. Louis, 11; Syracuse, 5. Errors—St. Louis, 2; Syracuse, 2.

Base Ball Briefs.

Nicoll has signed with the Pittsburg National League.

There will be no game at Sportsman's Park to-morrow.

President Von der Ahe is after another first-class catcher.

Fuller's base stealing yesterday was amusing as well as brilliant.

Old Jack Nelson and Joe Gerhardt will appear with the Brooklyns.

Jake Wells is a game catcher and he has a good head on his shoulders.

Comiskey's Chicago team lost again yesterday and is still in fifth place.

The Brooklyns will be here next and will meet the Browns Saturday afternoon.

Jim Davis, the popular third baseman, is with the Brooklyns. Jim is playing first-rate ball, too.

Wes Curry is a pretty good umpire, but he does not watch the corners of the plate close enough in calling balls and strikes.

Childs is funnier on the diamond than Latham, and the best of the joke is he can't help it. But he plays excellent ball all the time.

The Brooklyns have been strengthened since last visiting here and will play better ball. But Campau relies on winning the entire series.

Mr. Von der Ahe is of opinion that Syracuse will be sustained in the matter of the forfeited Sunday game with Louisville. The St. Louis-Brooklyn contest at the end of last season will be taken as a precedent.

Yesterday's Matinee.

There was a good ground at the Fair Grounds yesterday, and the racing was of the average order. The results were as follows:

First race, six furlongs—Jakie Toms, 102 first; Lee Dinkelspiel, 104, second; W. H. H., 108, third. Time, 1:16¾.

Second race, four and a half furlongs—Imogene, 105, first; First Lap, 110, second; Burt, 110, third. Time, 0:57¾.

Third race, four furlongs—Carrie A., 109, first; Burt Jordan 105, second; Ben Payne 110, third. Time, :51½.

Fourth race, six furlongs—Vashti, 105, first; Weeks 107, second; Jessie McFarland 107, third. Time, 1:17.

Fifth race, one mile—Red Cap 93, first; Zeka Hardy 109, second; No More 112, third. Time, 1:44½.

Brighton Beach Races.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—It was Bill Daly's day at Brighton Beach yesterday, three of his horses winning. There was a big crowd and plenty of excellent sport. The results were:

First race, one and one-eighth miles—The Bourbon, first; Harrison, second; Count Dudley, third. Time, 1:57½.

Second race, seven-eighths mile—Dead heat between Brait and Glenmound; Drumstick third. Time, 1:30. Brait won the run-off in :32.

Third race, three-fourths mile—Francis S. first; Virginia, second; Shena Van colt, third. Time 1:17¾.

Fourth race, one mile—Seymour, first; Ballston, second; Miss Cody, third. Time, 1:43.

Fifth race, three-fourths mile—Speedwell, first; Roger, second; Monsoon, third. Time, 1:15½.

Sixth race, five-eighths mile—Civil Service, first; Fitzroy, second; Sallie Harper, third. Time, 1:03½.

Guttenburg Races.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The results at Guttenburg were as follows:

First race, six and a half furlongs—Red Light, first; Coldstream, second; Vigilante, third. Time, 1:26½.

Second race, five-eighths of a mile—Ruby Royal, first; Toulon, second; Samaritan, third. Time, 1:05¾.

Third race, three-fourths of a mile—Woodcutter, first; Pigeon, second; Favora, third. Time, 1:13¾.

Fourth race, one mile and one-eighth—Gardner, first; Juggler, second; Ripton, third. Time, 2:03¼.

Fifth race, six and one-half furlongs—Iago, first; Gracie M., second; Rafter, third. Time, 1:24¾.

Sixth race, three-quarters of a mile—Anomaly, first; Arizona, second; Lancaster, third. Time, 1:18¼.

Trotting at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 7.—There was a big crowd at the opening of the grand circuit races yesterday, and three $2,000 purses were competed for. In the 2:30 trot Leopard Rose won three heats straight. In the 2:21 pace Cricket won the first and second heats in 2:15¼ and 2:13¼, but Dallas won the third, fourth and fifth and the purse. The 2:20 trot was a gift for Margaret S.

FASHIONABLE SOCIETY INTERESTED.

The Engagement of Ralph Montague Stuart-Wortley and Virginia Schley.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—Society circles here are much interested in an engagement which is shortly to be announced between Virginia Schley, daughter of the commander of the flagship Baltimore, and Ralph Montague Stuart-Wortley, nephew of the Earl of Wharncliffe and son of Sir James Montague Stuart-Wortley. Miss Schley is in her 21st year, and described by those who know her as a very pretty girl, with unaffected and winning manners which have won for her a host of friends in the society of New York, Washington and elsewhere. She is of medium height, light complexioned, with brown hair and great brown eyes. Mr. Stuart-Wortley is about 26 years of age, a tall, fine-looking young man of light complexion and with a light mustache. He belongs to a well known English family that is one of the oldest known in West Yorkshire, and connected by blood and marriage with many families in that aristocracy. The present Earl of Wharncliffe is third in his line and married a daughter of the Earl of Harwood. The seats of the family are Wortley Hall, Sheffield, Yorkshire; Belmont Castle, Meigle, Perkshire, with a London residence at Wharncliffe house, Curson street, Mayfair. What makes the present engagement all the more interesting is the fact that young Stuart-Wortley is about to become an American citizen. He came to this country three or four years ago and determined to learn the railroad business. He entered the service of the Richmond & Danville Railway and now lives at Portsmouth, Va., where he holds an important post. The Schleys come of an old Maryland family. Capt. Winfield Scott Schley, who commands the flag ship of the North Atlantic Squadron and will on Saturday have the honor of conducting President Harrison to Boston, has a distinguished record in the navy and commanded the Thetis in the Greely relief expedition. For his services on this occasion he was not long ago voted by the Maryland Legislature a handsome gold watch and chain as a testimonial of regard in behalf of the people of the State.

THE VENEZUELAN ARMY.

Gen. Ybarra Here to Inspect Barracks, Armories, Etc.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Gen. Ybarra, General Inspector of the Venezuelan Army, was seen by a reporter at the Hoffman House yesterday.

"I am on a mission from my Government," said he. "I have been sent on here to look into all the latest improvements in barracks, armories, arms, ammunition, fortreses, etc. We are reorganizing the Venezuelan army. Senor Ponet Peraza, the Venezuelan Minister at Washington, is here with me. Venezuela is every day becoming more closely relating in a business way to the United States. Under the adminstration of our President, Dr. Palacios, the country has attained unrecedented prosperity. The press has obsolute liberty and no more restraint than here. No person is imprisoned or exiled for political reasons. We are rapidly paying off our foreign debts. In spite of our trouble with England over boundary lines, we have paid off all the debts due to England for constructed breakwaters at Laguayra and building several railroads. There are not enough men to do the work of the country, consequently wages are high and everybody is getting rich. The soldiers of the army are now being allowed to return to their homes, with free passages, while their places are being taken by new men. Half our importations are from the United States. In comparison with our population we do more business with you than any other American country. There are destined to be closer relations between the two countries."

Chicago's Population.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 7.—Supt. Frankland of the School Census Bureau presented his final and corrected census report to the Board of Education last evening. According to it the population of Chicago is 1,280,669, or 107,406 more than Supt. Gilbert has found in the city.

Boils and Pimples

Are nature's efforts to eliminate poison from the blood. This result may be accomplished much more effectually, as well as agreeably, through the proper excretory channels, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"For several years I was troubled with boils and carbuncles. In casting about for a remedy, it occurred to me that Ayer's Sarsaparilla had been used in my father's family, with excellent success, and I thought that what was good for the father would also be good for the son. Three or four bottles of this medicine entirely cured me, and I have not since—in more than two years—had a boil, pimple, or any other eruptive trouble. I can conscientiously speak in the highest terms of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and many years' experience in the drug business enables me to speak intelligently."—C. M. Hatfield, Farmland, Ind.

A MUSICIANS' MOVEMENT.

PROF. BOWMAN'S PLAN TO ELEVATE THE NATIONAL MUSICAL STANDARD.

Examinations to Be Conducted By the American College of Musicians in St. Louis as Well as in New York—What the College Has, and Hopes to Accomplish—The Great Undertaking of a Former St. Louisan.

President E. M. Bowman of the American College of Musicians is now in the city making arrangements for the establishment of a system of examinations here similar to those held under the direct supervision of the college in New York.

Mr. Bowman is well known in St. Louis, he having been for a long time the organist in the Second Baptist Church here, and is now organist in Dr. Boyd's church in Newark, N. J.

Mr. Bowman will be in his old place on the bench of the Second Baptist organ next Sunday morning.

EXAMINATIONS HERE.

The idea is now to hold regular examinations in St. Louis and make the city a part of the college. The college was established with a view of setting up a definite and constant standard for musicians throughout the United States. By this standard all candidates for membership are judged, and when the examination is passed their abilities in the particular line of music are certified to in a diploma signed by the examiners.

President Bowman, in explaining the objects and origin of the college, said: "The object is to bring into general adoption a system which will give every musician his proper place, and which will help a good man to establish himself. Take for instance the case of a teacher who has finished a pupil and wants to launch him out as a teacher or professional musician. What does he do? He gives the pupil a certificate or a recommendation. This is all very well in the comparatively limited circle in which the teacher is well known, but very few of those instructors have national reputations so that beyond a certain point his indorsement of the pupil is practically valueless. Now if the diploma of the College of Musicians is substituted for the certificate of the teacher the pupil has something substantial to go on as the diploma passes current everywhere, just as the diploma of a physician from a first-class medical college has a positive worth.

"The examiners who pass upon the qualifications of a candidate are the best known musicians in the country, whose standing is unimpeachable so that absolute confidence can be placed in their decisions. No chance of any kind is allowed whereby any influence may be brought to bear upon the judges. Each candidate is given a number, and it is only by this number that he is known to the examiners. The manner of obtaining a membership in the college is very simple. The candidate makes his application in writing, stating the branches in which he wishes to qualify. This application is accompanied by a small fee and his name is listed. Then at a convenient time he is given his examination. The examination includes all of the branches of music from the simplest execution to the most technical theory. It makes no difference whether the candidate is desirous of becoming a singer, pianist or organist, in each branch the examinations are arranged to reach a relative equality and by that system the standing of a pianist can be compared with that of a singer.

"We are very hopeful of making a success and have before us the successes of the English College of Organists. I was the first American to get a diploma from there and I have made a very careful study of their system. It has now reached a point where an organist in England has no standing whatever unless he is a member of the college and has his diploma. They have succeeded there in their efforts and therefore we think that with the improvements we have adopted and the care we have taken with the construction of the whole system, the plan will carry successfully. It has succeeded beyond a doubt in New York and the East, but with that we are not satisfied; we want more and are anxious to establish branches in all the large cities in the country. We have one in Chicago and are now at work here. The report for this year will show plainly what has been done. The report is as follows:

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE.

"The fifth annual examination of the college took place at New York on June 24 and following days. The increased percentage of successful candidates, in spite of a gradual rise in the standard, proves that the thorough work required by the college is being better understood by students generally, and that they know that in order to pass they must be well acquainted, both practically and theoretically, with the subjects for which they enter, in addition to a knowledge of the theory of music, a branch hitherto somewhat neglected by instrumentalists and vocalists."

The successful candidates this year are: For the Fellowship Degree—Richard M. Welton, Decherd, Tenn., special theory; Harriette B. Judd, New York; Wm. C. Macfarlane, New York, and Frederick Mason, Philadelphia, organ. For the Associate Degree—Harriette B. Judd, New York; B. B. Gillette, Boston; Geo. H. Lomas, Pawtucket, R. I.; Edwin Barnes, Battle Creek, Mich., organ; Mary E. Wade, Alton, Ill., Mary J. Haselwood, Providence, R. I., and Ed V. McIntyre, St. Louis, Mo., piano.

The annual meeting was held on June 27 and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:

President, E. M. Bowman, New York; Vice-Presidents, S. B. Whitney, Boston, and Miss Amy Fay, Chicago, Ill.; Secretary and Treasurer, Robt. Bonner, Providence, R. I.

The Board of Examiners for 1891 consists of William Mason, Mme. Fanny Bloomfield Zeisler and A. R. Parsons, Piano; S. P. Warren, S. B. Whitney, Geo. E. Whiting, Organ; S. E. Jacobsohn, J. H. Beck, Gustav Dannreuther, violin; Mme. Luisa Cappiani, J. H. Wheeler, F. W. Root, voice; W. F. Heath, N. Coe Stewart, Wm. H. Dana, Public Schools; Dudley Buck, W. W. Gilchrist, Thos. Tapper, Jr., Musical Theory and Composition.

An important discussion was held as to the advisability of holding examinations elsewhere than in New York and steps taken by which examinations will be held each year alternately in the East and West, New York, St. Louis, Chicago and other cities. This will give candidates from all sections of the country an opportunity to attend the examinations without having to undertake such long journeys, and we are sure will meet the approval of music students generally.

The examination questions for 1890 will shortly be published, and will be sent on application by the Secretary, Robert Bonner, 60 Williams street, Providence, R. I., who will also furnish copies of the prospectives and examination papers for former years, and to whom all questions for information concerning the college should be addressed.

ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRACY.

A Sensational Incident in the Case of Young vs. Young.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Theo. W. Torrey, 57 years old, of 45 West Twelfth street, bookkeeper for Richard D. Young, perfumer of 100 William street, was arrested yesterday at his desk by Detectives Herdelberg and Dolan on a requisition from Gov. Hill, charging him with conspiracy with Young in placing Young's wife in a compromising position to enable Young to obtain a divorce. The requisition was granted at the request of Gov. Abbett of New Jersey. After Torrey had been locked up at police headquarters Sheriff Cadelmus of Passaic County, N. J., called to get him but Torrey's lawyer Chas. W. Brooke, interposed. He said Gov. Hill had ordered his client to be brought before him to-day for a hearing. Herdelberg and Dolan will start with Torrey for Albany this morning. Perfumer Young has been in an insane asylum at least once. Before he was committed he turned all his property over to his wife. When he was discharged he claimed that his wife had used undue influence to obtain his property. They lived very unhappily together and on April 6, 1889, he fired several shots at her at their home. The police interfered in time to prevent bloodshed. After this episode Mrs. Young left her husband and went to live with her mother who keeps a boarding-house in Mont Clair, N. J. After his wife's departure, Young brought a suit for divorce, naming half a dozen corespondents, and also an action to recover his property. Proof of his wife's infidelity was lacking and he sent Torrey, his confidential man, to board at his mother-in-law's house at Mount Clair and, if possible, get evidence against his wife. Mrs. Young had never met Torrey, who passed there under an assumed name and represented that he was a business man in shattered health. Torrey's board cost $20 a week and his livery bill was about $50. All his expenses were borne by Young with whom he was in constant communication. On October 20, Torrey, after many attempts, succeeded in getting Mrs. Young to take a drive with him. They went to Patterson and had dinner at the Hamilton House. Afterward Torrey engaged a room and ordered a bottle of wine. Soon Young and a friend, who were in the next room, burst in the door of Torrey's room. Mrs. Young was lying on the bed. She said that the wine was drugged and that she was made sick and fell back on the bed. She declared that when she was unconscious Torrey disarranged her clothing. The divorce proceedings were continued before a referee, but Torrey never appeared to testify. The case is still pending.

THE MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY.

Regular Meetings of the Council and House of Delegates.

The Council met last night with a bare quorum, Mr. Comfort presiding. A flurry was created by the Mayor's communication withdrawing the name of Mark A. Shipley for Street Commissioner and the nomination of M. J. Murphy, the present Harbor Commissioner. After some discussion the business was left to the Public Improvements Committee. A bill fixing the speed of the Missouri Pacific Railway Co.'s trains was introduced. Mr. Vogel introduced a bill giving the Transfer Railway Co. a right to lay tracks on a part of the levee.

The Bell Telephone Co. bill came from the House with amendments, but the Council refused to concur and the House receded from the amendments and the bill was passed.

The pontoon bridge bill went to engrossment.

The gas bill was discussed and finally ordered printed and laid on the table. The Council then adjourned until this evening.

THE HOUSE.

The House of Delegates met in special session last night. A drinking fountain bill was the first order of business. Mr. Stone presented an ordinance authorizing the Mayor and Comptroller to sell a small piece of property on Jefferson avenue.

A switch bill for the St. Louis, Oak Hill & Carondelet Railroad was introduced by Mr. Sievers.

The Forest Park Improvement Co. bill was passed. The committee reported the ordinance defining the limits for the erection of frame buildings without permit and it was passed.

The conduit bill was laid over to give the members an opportunity to study it.

The Bell telephone bill was passed.

Mr. Stone amended the resolution to adjourn and the day fixed was next Saturday.

The House then adjourned until to-night.

The forecast for Missouri for to-day fair; stationary temperature.

PLEASE pardon us for continuously directing you

ATTENTION to the Pants we are selling for $5.00 a pair, but we know, and most of the men folks know, that

NOW is the time when many are needing a new pair; consequently it is advantageous to both you and us

TO have you know of these that we're letting go for so little. At any other time in the season they'd readily bring $7 or $8 a pair. See them and you'll SAY, as we, that they're going at a price that makes them cheap enough for you to buy, even though you have to carry the till another season.

CITY PRINTING.

OFFICE OF THE CITY REGISTER,
CITY HALL, ST. LOUIS, July 23, 1890.

Pursuant to the requirements of the charter and ordinances of the City of St. Louis, sealed proposals will be received at the office of the undersigned until 12 o'clock noon.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 9, 1890,

from the publishers of English newspapers in the City of St. Louis, having a uniform daily circulation of over three thousand (3,000) copies, for the English city printing during the remainder of the current year. Said bids must propose to do the printing and advertising required by law or ordinance to be done in an English newspaper, including Mullanphy Relief Fund and Collector's office, at a uniform price per line, as per style of printing, as may be shown at Register's office, and must be accompanied with affidavits of said publishers that the uniform daily circulation of their respective newspapers is over three thousand (3,000) copies.

The papers bidding shall also state in their bid the price per page they will print four hundred copies of the proceedings of the Municipal Assembly (200 copies for each house, no blank pages to be counted), as may be published in such newspaper, in pamphlet form, and furnish the same within two days after each meeting to each house of the Municipal Assembly.

The papers will also state what price per page they will furnish fifteen hundred copies of the ordinances as may be published in the newspapers, of a uniform size, suitable for binding in the customary pamphlet form (no blank pages to be counted). The papers bidding will also state at what price per page they will furnish one hundred printed copies of the proceedings of the Board of Public Improvements as may be published in the newspapers (no blank pages to be counted).

Bidders will be required to make a cash deposit of one hundred dollars.

A bond of ten thousand dollars will be required for the faithful performance of the contract.

No bid shall be considered in which there shall be an erasure or interlineation.

All bids must be indorsed "Proposals for City Printing."

The paper receiving the contract will be required to furnish forty copies of the daily papers free of charge. The paper receiving the contract will be required to furnish two dozen slips of each advertisement made by the Commissioner of Supplies, free of charge, to the said Commissioner.
